SENATOR HANNA'S FRIENDS AND SUPPORTERS DECLARE HE IS LOYAL TO ROOSEVELT

No Presidential Bee Buzzing About Ears of the Ohio Republican Leader, According to Chairman Abel.

ALWAYS MEANS WHAT HE SAYS

All eyes are now turned to Ohio, the maker of presidents, the state always to be depended upon to get into the forefront when there is to be political excitement. Soon the Republican state convention is to be held at Columbus. Recent utterances of political leaders have led to the impression that some action there taken will affect the nomination of President Theodore Roosevelt next year. Ohio's statesmen and politicians are at their busiest. And right in the midst of the excitement and interest for the coming few weeks The Gazette, always first in the field where important news is to be secured, will be represented by Mr. L. W. Strayer, its able staff correspondent, who will furnish to the readers of this newspaper the very latest and most reliable information from this center of interest.

Staff Correspondent.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Cleveland, May 21.—"I believe Senator Hanna means precisely what he says when he declares that he is not a candidate for president of the United States," said W. P. Abel, chairman of the Cuyahoga county Republican committee, today. "The senator is frank and honest with his friends, and if he did not mean it he would not say it. President Roosevelt is popular here and there is a strong sentiment prevailing in his favor to succeed himself. Cleveland will do its share to help secure his nomination and election next year.

"However, I have no hesitation in saying to you that if Senator Hanna were a candidate for the presidency the Republicans of Cuyahoga county would all be in line for him. We would be pleased to give him our support in that event. But he has said that he is not a candidate, and we know him well enough to firmly believe that he is sincere in the declaration, and therefore we are all for Roosevelt."

This, coming from the official head of the Hanna organization in Cleveland is certainly worthy of consideration. And it was fully substantiated by Col. C. C. Dewstoe, postmaster of this city, who is one of the senator's stanchest political friends and supporters. Col. Dewstoe said:

"I am certain that Senator Hanna has no aspirations to become the Republican presidential nominee. He has said so in terms that cannot be misunderstood, and we who know the man well, have learned that he says just what he means. It doesn't require much speculation to determine where Mr. Hanna stands on question of importance. He is not the gumshoe sort; he is outspoken and frank. There is a man down in Texas who is prominent in Republican politics of that state and sent the senator and me each a box of the finest peaches I ever saw, later I introduced this Texan to the senator in Washington during the Grand Army encampment last year, and I said to Mr. Hanna, 'Senator this man wants to put a resolution through the Texas state convention indorsing you for president.'

"Senator Hanna turned to the Texan and said: 'Mr. ——, I have loved you ever since you sent me those delicious peaches, but if you do this thing I will love you no longer.' He was in earnest and the resolution was not introduced. President Roosevelt is the man to head the Republican ticket next year, and nothing, in my opinion, except a most unexpected period of business depression or some other calamity for which the party in power must always bear the responsibility, whether deserving or not, can prevent his election."

These statements contain the sentiment that I find on every hand among the Republicans of this city. They believe that Senator Hanna is not nursing an ambition to lead the Republican forces next year and they also believe that nothing short of a miracle can sidetrack Roosevelt. He is the man they all have in mind and many of whom I talked expressed surprise that anyone should suggest another candidate.

Cleveland has its family quarrels but they are purely local. Tom L. Johnson holds the upper hand here now and while the citizens of this busy community wrangle over public service franchises, 3-cent car fares and other matters affecting the people, all this is classed as municipal politics and having no relation whatever to state or national politics, consequently Republicans decline to admit that Cleveland is a Democratic city and when you point to city hall where Democrats sit contentedly enjoying the political plums, they reply:

"Oh, they are Johnson men and were elected on local issues, and we will lick them, anyhow next time."

A gentleman who is close to Senator Hanna said today: "Some time ago I referred to the talk of him as a presidential candidate and half jestingly told him I didn't know whether to address him as Senator Hanna or as President Hanna. He said to me then that he had no desire to run for president, but that his ambition was merely to be to Mr. Roosevelt what he was to Mr. McKinley, as nearly as the changed conditions would permit. His desire was to help in Roosevelt's election and to lend his strength to the battle."

It is only fair probably to say that Mr. Hanna no doubt has the presidential ambition that burns in every good citizen's breast from the schoolboy days when he declaims Patrick Henry to the time that he finally slides into the niche in life that fate or fortune has prepared for him. It is the ambition that is instilled into every American youth and it is not easily extinguished. But if there is one man in the Republican party who more than all others is capable of judging the strength of Mr. Roosevelt and the hold he has upon the hearts of the American people that man is Senator Hanna. He knows that Roosevelt is the logical candidate and his friends believe he is the last man on earth who would wage an internecine war in a hopeless case that would injure the Republican party and endanger its success.

When a man said to me today: "Oh, nobody here takes this Hanna talk seriously," he did not mean it in a slighting sense, as he afterward explained. He meant that Senator Hanna's neighbors did not think he had any idea of making a run for the presidency ,and when he pointedly stated that he was not a candidate, they took him at his word and dismissed the matter from their minds as settled.

Senator Hanna has not yet returned from the centennial celebration at Chillicothe, O. L. W. STRAYER.

KANSAS CYCLONE CAUSE OF DEATH AND DESTRUCTION

Many Persons Are Killed, More Injured and Numerous Buildings Mowed Down in the Path of the Raging Storm.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Salina, Kas., May 21.—The third tornado in Salina county within the past 24 hours struck Assaria tonight. Two persons were killed and a dozen or more injured.

Of the injured none are fatally hurt. The house in which the Olsons lived was demolished completely and the body of the boy was found 30 rods from where the house had stood. The wind carried the farmhouse occupied by Nels Olsonburg a distance of five rods. Miss Christine Olsonburg saw the storm coming and escaped from the house half a minute before it was carried away.

ASHLAND, KAS., May 21.—This place and a large portion of the country were laid waste tonight by a tornado. The damage will be great. It is reported from the country districts that some persons were fatally injured. The indications are that the storm was worse in the country than in town. This country is very sparsely settled, however, and no particulars of the damage done are obtainable tonight. The residence portion of Ashland suffered most. The homes of six citizens were completely wrecked and 30 houses are partially demolished. Three citizens were injured when their houses went down.

The fruit farm of F. H. Kerns was swept clear of the trees and buildings. The Theis ranch house was destroyed and trees and windmills are down in all directions. Many cattle were killed.

CHICKASHA, I. T., May 21.—A tornado passed over the town of Lone Wolf, 65 miles west of Chickasha, on the Mangum branch of the Rock Island today. Four houses were blown down and their contents scattered. Mrs. Hargan, wife of a farmer, was blown against a barbed wire fence and killed.

AMERILLO, TEX., May 21.—The Panhandle country was visited by a severe storm today. The home of Mr. R. Wilson near Hereford, was blown to pieces, killing Mrs. Wilson and her child and fatally injuring Mr. Wilson. Much damage was done to property in the vicinity of Amerillo.

MACHEN TO BE FIRED BODILY

Further Investigation of Postoffice Scandal Reveals Big Deficit.

PAYNE WAS DECEIVED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
ROOM 19, POSTAL BUILDING,
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 21.

The next important development in the postoffice investigation will probably be the resignation or removal of A. W. Machen from the position of superintendent of the free delivery service. Postmaster General Payne this afternoon gave an intimation of what would happen to Machen by declaring with much emphasis:

"I had not the slightest idea there was any considerable deficit in the free delivery bureau and I will not stand for the loose business methods that caused it."

The disclosures of the deficit of more than $227,000 was uppermost in the discussion of the postal scandals today. When asked recently for a statement of the finances of the free delivery bureau, Machen replied in a formal letter to the first assistant postmaster general that there would be a deficit of perhaps $20,000. There would have been nothing surprising had the deficit reached that amount, for the bureau each year since its establishment has shown a deficit for a larger amount than that named.

Had Machen not been suspended the fact that the deficit was for a much larger amount would probably never have been known, as the system by which he expended the appropriation for his bureau was such that he could have made it up out of the appropriation for the next fiscal year. As it was, the shortage of funds was one of the first things discovered by Inspector Fowler when he took charge of the free delivery bureau.

Mr. Payne was plainly disturbed this afternoon over the disclosures. From the beginning of the investigation he has been the champion of Machen, insisting that he was falsely accused.

"I do not think the discovery of the deficit indicates anything of a criminal nature," said he. "The worst that can be said is that it shows loose administration in the affairs of the free delivery service. An investigation is now being conducted and all of the facts will be brought to light. Mr. Machen will be given a hearing and whatever explanation he may make will be considered. I do not see just how he can explain the deficit. It is too large. I do not intend to stand for it."

That Machen did not confine his expenditures to the appropriation is due to the fact that in endeavoring to curry favor with members of congress he established more routes than had been originally planned for the year's work. The fact that it has not been necessary for him to account to the postmaster general or to any one else enabled him to do this. It was generally predicted today that he would be removed from the postal service immediately upon the return of President Roosevelt.

Congress will be asked at the opening of its next session to make an appropriation to cover deficiencies in both the regular free delivery service and the rural free delivery service of the postoffice department. Postmaster General Payne today announced that this deficiency now aggregates exactly $227,467, of which $105,900 is in the free delivery branch and $121,600 in the rural free delivery service.

AX OF VENGEANCE LAYS LOW WESTERN UNION POLES ALONG THE P. R. R.'S TRACKS

Wrath of the Cassatt-Morgan Party Over the "Invasion" of Pittsburgh by the Goulds Is Shown.

ACTION BY ORDER OF COURT

ALL WAS READY, SAYS PITCARIN

"The order came from Philadelphia," said Robert Pitcairn, resident assistant to the president of the Pennsylvania railroad, last evening. "The work was all done by the section men. It had to be, I suppose. It is to embrace the line clear through. The men were all ready when the order of court was given."

MAY PAY DEARLY, SAYS NEEPER

"This case will certainly be taken to the United States supreme court," said A. M. Neeper, the counsel for the Western Union in the Pittsburgh fight and general counsel for the Gould interests here. "In case that court finds us right, the Pennsylvania railroad will pay dearly for the work it has done today."

Stretching the whole distance between the two great cities of this commonwealth lie this morning the ruins of what was yesterday the busiest series of telegraph lines along any railroad in the country. By cutting down the poles of the Western Union Telegraph Company along the Pennsylvania railroad the Cassatt-Morgan party yesterday wreaked vengeance upon George J. Gould and his associates for daring to come to the rescue of Pittsburgh's industries crippled by the incapacity of the present railroads to handle her business.

Finding it impossible to prevent by suasion the aggressive young railroad magnate from "invading," as they choose to call it, their own trunk line territory, and finding it equally impossible to outwit his managers in the contest for rights of way, for franchises and all that go to make a railroad possible, they turned upon the one weak point in the Gould armor.

The term of the contract of the Western Union Telegraph Company was about ended. Notice was served that the telegraph system owned owned by the Gould interests would be forced from the railroad right of way unless the eastern railroad system died at its birth. The case was fought through the courts and the action of Judge Buffington yesterday gave the Pennsylvania railroad the power to cut away the poles and the lines.

This order came direct from the office of Alexander Cassatt, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and its various subsidiary companies. The order to cut was issued in the forenoon to be effective as soon as the message should flash along the wires that Judge Buffington had decided to issue the order refusing the injunction. Thousands of men were on hand, each division superintendent having his force ready. Early in the afternoon the order was signed and to a very few minutes the first pole was down.

This order to cut down the poles affected the territory on the main line from Morrisville, Pa., on the Delaware river, opposite Trenton, N. J., across the state of Pennsylvania to Pittsburgh; the Philadelphia, Baltimore & Washington railroad, from Philadelphia to Washington; and the West Jersey & Seashore railroad, which extends from Camden, N. J., to Atlantic City, Cape May and other seacoast resorts.

The order provided that the wire after the poles were cut should be coiled up and left lying on the railroad right-of-way awaiting disposition by the telegraph company. It was expected last night that many tons of this wire would be stolen before daybreak.

There are about 25,000 miles of wire and about 75,000 poles affected by this order. The mileage of the lines covered is between 700 and 1,000. There still remains a great deal of work to be done before every vestige of the Western Union's occupation of the Pennsylvania railroad's right-of-way will be removed.

The action of yesterday followed the decision in the United States court of appeals on Tuesday that the Pennsylvania railroad had the right to force the Western Union off its right of way. Judge Buffington yesterday made an order refusing a preliminary injunction to prevent the railroad doing this. A. M. Neeper, counsel for the telegraph company, asked for a delay until a similar case in New Jersey is taken to the United States supreme court. He asked that at least this order be held over until Monday. His argument was that if the lines in this judicial district are cut, it will put an end to through business over the New Jersey lines.

Judge Buffington replied that as the appeals had been decided against the telegraph company by the court of appeals it was his duty to issue the order. He said that the matter had been held over for three months and the company had had ample opportunity to prepare for the order. He then signed the order.

No sooner had the order been signed

DR. F. COYLE ELECTED ASSEMBLY MODERATOR

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Los Angeles, Cal., May 21.—The 115th assembly of the Presbyterian church of the United States convened at Emmanuel Presbyterian church today. Two sessions were held during the day, the morning being taken up with the annual sermon of retiring moderator, the Rev. Harry Van Dyke of Princeton university, and the entire afternoon to the election of a moderator for the ensuing year, the Rev. Dr. F. Coyle of Denver being elected on the second ballot. In the evening the administration of the Lord's supper occupied the time of the commissioners, the Rev. Dr. Van Dyke presiding.

Dr. Coyle was nominated by the Rev. Dr. William H. Hage of Kansas, Dr. William H. Roberts by the Rev. Samuel B. McCormick, D. D., of Iowa; Rev. B. Fitzgerald of Cincinnati named Dr. David Schaff of Lane Theological seminary, Cincinnati. Rev. Orville Reed of Mont Clair, N. J., placed the name of Dr. Calvin W. Mateer before the assembly.

On the first ballot 400 votes were cast. Dr. Coyle received 223, Dr. Roberts 220, Dr. Mateer 88, Dr. Zenos 21 and Dr. Schaff 14.

A second ballot was ordered, but before the beginning of the roll call Dr. Roberts withdrew from the contest. Prof. Zenos' name was also withdrawn. This left Coyle, Mateer and Schaff in the race. The taking of the second ballot was begun. When Dr. Coyle's vote had reached 332, a majority, Dr. Roberts moved that the election of Dr. Coyle be unanimous, and this motion prevailed amid hearty applause.

It was a notable assemblage that Dr. Van Dyke called to order at 11 o'clock this morning. Six hundred and seventy commissioners, representing both the conservative and the liberal elements of the Presbyterian church, occupied seats in the auditorium of Emmanuel church.

Dr. VanDyke, departing from the usual custom, wore a Geneva gown. He occupied more than an hour in the delivery of his sermon and was given the closest attention throughout. Nothing could stem the enthusiasm that marked his closer. Commissioners and spectators alike joined in handclapping. Announcements were made by the committee on arrangements, among them being an order admitting from the auditorium of the church all except commissioners, and the evening from now on will be of a routine and business character.

SOUTH BYEGATE, VT., May 21.—The general synod of the Reformed Presbyterian church resumed its session today. The election resulted in the unanimous choice of the Rev. W. R. Chesnut, Ph. D., as moderator. He is pastor in Illinois and publisher of the Church Magazine, which is the organ of the Reformed Presbyterian church.

LEXINGTON, VA., May 21.—At the afternoon session of the Southern Presbyterian assembly the final ballot for moderator resulted in the election of the Rev. Dr. Abner C. Hopkins of Charlestown, Jefferson county, W. Va., of the Winchester presbytery.

LOCAL BOYS GET HONORS.

Students from Western Pennsylvania Prominent in Annual Yale Senior Society Election.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., May 21.—(Special)—Many Western Pennsylvania boys were prominent today in the annual Yale senior society elections given as usual at "Tap day" by a slap between the shoulders on the campus. Don Thompson of Pittsburgh slapped George Adams of Ulysses for skull and bones. John Bruce of Allegheny was slapped for scroll and key by C. B. Auchincloss. Julian H. Hall of Greensburg was slapped for scroll and key by Robert R. McCormick of Chicago, son of the American ambassador.

For the first time in Yale history a candidate was slapped for all three societies. He was George Shippe Monroe of Williamsport, Pa. He picked scroll and key.

John A. Moorhead of Pittsburgh was slapped by A. E. Oliver and will be initiated to the privileges of the wolf's head.

Gave Million Sheep Feast.

HELENA, MONT., May 21.—Governor installed by President T. C. Power of the state board of sheep commissioners, gives the novel number of sheep lost in the recent blizzard as 1,000,000. Up to the close of the storm, 500,000 sheep had been frozen in previous blizzards, making a total of 1,500,000 lost in Montana with December. At an average of $3.50 this means a monetary loss of $4,750,000.

SAYS JEWS INVITED KISHINEFF MURDERS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

St. Petersburg, May 21.—The circular of Interior Minister Von Plehwe, issued May 17, described the massacre of the Jews at Kishineff largely to acts of self-defense on the part of the Jews and continued:

"The events at Kishineff have alarmed the Jewish portion of the population in many regions of the empire, and have occasioned rumors among the Christians about intended Jewish persecutions. In some of the cities the Jews began forming self defense associations. After I reported to his majesty about the disorders, his majesty commanded me to impress upon the commanders in the province and towns that they are obligated and are held personally responsible to take all the necessary measures to prevent violence and calm the populace in order to remove the occasion of fears for life and property in any portion. In informing your excellency of the monarch's will, I feel obliged to state for your guidance that no sort of associations for self-defense can be tolerated."

The Jews are not inclined to depend solely on the police and have armed themselves, in spite of the circular, throughout the Jewish belt. Undoubtedly their action prevented a repetition of the massacre at Kiev, Odessa, Minsk and elsewhere. The Minsk Jews are so alarmed that the slightest outbreak causes a general closing and barricading of their shops.

Answering a private letter asking for his opinion of the Kishineff massacre, Count Tolstoi writes:

"My relations to the Jews and the terrible Kishineff affair must be clear to everybody interested in my belief. My relation to the Jews can only be as that to brothers whom I love, not because they are Jews, but because they and everybody are the sons of one father, God. That love does me no violence, because I have met and know Jews who are very good people. My relation to the Kishineff crime is also defined in my religious belief. Before knowing all the frightful details I understood the horror and felt intense pity for the innocent victims of mob savagery, mingled with perplexity at the bestiality of the so-called Christians and aversion and disgust for the so-called educated people who instigated the mob and sympathized with its deeds.

"Above all I was horrified at the real culprit, namely, the government, with its foolish, fanatical priesthood and gang of robber officials. The Kishineff crime was a consequence of preaching lies and violence, which the government carries on with such stubborn energy. The government's relation to the affair is new proof of its rude egotism, hesitating at no atrocity when it is a question of crushing movements regarded as dangerous, and is proof of its complete equanimity which is like that of the Turkish government toward the Armenian massacres and most horrible atrocities, if only its interests remain untouched."

PRESIDENT MITCHELL SAYS LABOR WARS ARE NEARING AN END

Miners' Chief Declares All Industrial World Will Be at Peace Next Month.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, May 21.—John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, is of the opinion that labor wars are nearing an end. He is here today in conference with three of the anthracite leaders to adjust local questions.

"The strikes and differences in general between employe and employer are but temporary in my opinion," said he, "and they are no greater this year than they have been in former times. Through the month of April and around the first of May is the time for the renewal of contracts and the adjustment of whatever differences have grown up during the year. It is a sort of summer house-cleaning.

"There is no more trouble now between employer and employe than there has been in the past, nor are conditions any more serious, but the people are up with the times, and that is why they watch every move. The outlook is hopeful, and with the beginning of next month all will be at peace again."

Liberty Bell Goes to Boston.

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—(Special.)—Mayor Weaver notified city councils today that he had approved their resolutions to take the Liberty bell to Boston for June 17, the 128th anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill. The mayor said that he was opposed to the relic being taken out of the city, but as Boston had so much in common with Philadelphia in the war for independence he felt that he could not refuse to allow the bell to go there.

George Francis Train Is Ill With Smallpox.

STAMFORD, CONN., May 21.—George Francis Train is quarantined at the home of his sister, Helen M. L. Guilder, in this city, suffering from a mild case of smallpox. Mr. Train came here yesterday from New York. The physicians in attendance on Mr. Train here assert that he has been ill for at least a week.

GEORGE LAUDER SAVED LIVES OF PARTY IN CANOE DURING STORM

Greenwich, Conn., May 21.—By presence of mind George Lauder, Jr., of Pittsburgh, and a nephew of Andrew Carnegie, yesterday afternoon saved from drowning a party of young people who were cruising with him in Long Island sound in a canoe. The experience of the excursionists, among whom was Mrs. Lauder and Miss Carnegie, was most exciting.

The Lauders are staying here for a short time. Yesterday Mr. Lauder invited a few friends to lunch on his yacht Endymion which lay at anchor off India harbor. Just as the party was about to start for the dock a lightning storm arose and the trip was deferred for an hour or more. Soon the weather was apparently calm and several members of the party suggested making the trip in a canoe, rigged with sails, which is used as a clubhouse tender.

All went well until the boat was a quarter of a mile from shore. Suddenly a squall swept the sound. Friends of Mr. Lauder, who were at the clubhouse, watched through telescopes the struggles of the brave little crew. Mr. Lauder, in desperation, called to his wife to assist him in lowering two sails and the brave woman responded in a way that caused the clubhouse contingent to fairly applaud. This seemed to have the desired effect and within a short time the wind had passed and the canoe party safely landed on board the Endymion.

PIG IRON HAS AGAIN DECLINED IN PRICE

NEW YORK, May 21.—A further decline in pig iron prices was announced today, the loss being about 25 cents per ton. This break took in all of the grades of northern iron and No. 1 foundry and No. 1 soft of the southern irons. The price of $20 fixed today compares with $24 25 at the opening of April. That was the high price of the current year. A year ago the price was $19 50.

Students from Western Pennsylvania Prominent in Annual Yale Senior Society Election.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., May 21.—(Special)—Many Western Pennsylvania boys were prominent today in the annual Yale senior society elections given as usual at "Tap day" by a slap between the shoulders on the campus. Don Thompson of Pittsburgh slapped George Adams of Ulysses for skull and bones. John Bruce of Allegheny was slapped for scroll and key by C. B. Auchincloss. Julian H. Hall of Greensburg was slapped for scroll and key by Robert R. McCormick of Chicago, son of the American ambassador.

William Frew of Pittsburgh slapped George E. Parks for scroll and key. Harold W. Dupuy of Pittsburgh slapped Arthur Rivenburgh, son of the sugar king, for wolf's head. For the first time in Yale history a candidate was slapped for all three societies. He was George Shippe Monroe of Williamsport, Pa. He picked scroll and key.

John A. Moorhead of Pittsburgh was slapped by A. E. Oliver and will be initiated to the privileges of the wolf's head.

Gave Million Sheep Feast.

HELENA, MONT., May 21.—Governor installed by President T. C. Power of the state board of sheep commissioners, gives the novel number of sheep lost in the recent blizzard as 1,000,000. Up to the close of the storm, 500,000 sheep had been frozen in previous blizzards, making a total of 1,500,000 lost in Montana with December. At an average of $3.50 this means a monetary loss of $4,750,000.

BANQUET AT PORTLAND

The Chief Magistrate Delivers Two Addresses in the Metropolis After Visiting the Capital of the Webfoot State.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

PORTLAND, ORE., May 21.—President Roosevelt traveled through the fertile Williamette valley from early this morning until 2 o'clock this afternoon, when he arrived at Salem, the capital of the state. A stop of three hours was made and the president delivered an address at the capital on citizenship. The only other stop made during the day was at Oregon City, a manufacturing town, 12 miles south of this city. All along the route crowds gathered at stations and gave the president an enthusiastic reception. In this city he made two speeches, one at the laying of the corner stone of the Lewis and Clark monument and another at the banquet given in his honor at the Hotel Portland tonight by the citizens of Portland. The president spent the night here and at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning will resume his journey, two hours later crossing the Columbia river an dentering the state of Washington.

On his way to the station at Salem the president noticed an invalid child lying upon a stretcher on the curbing. He stopped his carriage, alighted and kissed the little girl.

As the president's train drew on the bridge spanning the Williamette river in this city a salute of 21 guns was fired by a battery of the Oregon National Guard stationed on the elevation across the river from the Union depot. A few minutes later the train entered the station amid the cheering of an immense crowd, the din of steam whistles and the playing of bands.

A committee headed by United States Senator John H. Mitchell escorted the president to a carriage and a drive about the city was taken. In the carriage with the president was George P. Williams, who was a cabinet officer when the president was a boy.

BROWN'S AGREEMENT.

Brother of Late City Recorder Says the Latter Had Arrangement with T. S. Bigelow.

J. R. P. Brown, brother of the late City Recorder J. O. Brown, who has been in Pittsburgh for some time conducting an investigation into the death of the recorder and his movements just previous to his death, yesterday said that he understood that the late recorder made an agreement with Thomas S. Bigelow, the Citizens party leader, concerning local politics. He said he understands that a copy of the agreement is in the possession of Walter R. Black, the late recorder's clerk and nephew. Black yesterday denied having such a contract in his possession or having any knowledge of one having been made between Recorder Brown and Mr. Bigelow.

Both Coroner Jesse M. McGeary and Mr. Brown yesterday stated that they have not received a report from Chemist Seiling of Philadelphia, who is making the analysis of Recorder Brown's stomach. It is rumored that Coroner McGeary received the report of the chemist some time ago and that arsenic was found in the recorder's stomach, but the chemist in his report stated that he was unable to determine whether the arsenic was in the recorder's stomach before his body was embalmed or not.

DRUGGISTS WERE FOXY.

Wilkinsburg Blue Law Crusade May End in the Courts.

There was a hitch last night in imposing penalties upon the blue law violators of Wilkinsburg. Walter L. Smith, who does business at Wood and Franklin streets, and Michael McCann of Penn and Center avenues, druggists, arraigned before Burgess John A. Keys on the charge of "having done unlawful duty on the Sabbath day" in selling soda water, presented papers showing a previous conviction on the same charge. Both defendants had been sued before a Pittsburgh alderman and were immune from prosecution by the borough authorities.

There was a large attendance at the hearing, which was held in the town hall. There were several other defendants and these cases went on, the burgess reserving his decision until Saturday. The druggists have many supporters and it is expected that the blue law crusade will be fought out in the courts.

COUNCILS REGULATE SPEED.

Vehicles Must Not Go Faster Than Eight Miles an Hour.

At a special meeting of the North Braddock borough council, held yesterday, an ordinance was passed regulating the speed of carriages, street cars and automobiles, to eight miles an hour. Tax Collector A. A. Corey, Borough Clerk John O. Jones and Treasurer Edgar Mills, made their annual reports, which were turned over to the auditor. There is a balance in the treasury of $8,397.60.

A contract was awarded to the Wallace Construction Company of Braddock for the grading and paving of Brinton avenue, for $16,727.60. There was a fight on the fire-limit repealing ordinance, which passed February 20 and applied to Hawkins, Bell and Jones avenues. The ordinance was defeated as was also one which provided for the extending of Beach street, in the First ward, through to the East Pittsburgh borough line.

SELIGMAN'S WOUND WILL NOT BE FATAL

NEW YORK, May 21.—(Special.)—Washington Seligman, the millionaire broker, will not die as a result of the slashing he gave himself with a razor at the Hotel Rossmore last night. UNIONTOWN, PA., May 21.—Ellsworth & Co., coal operators in Washington county, have refused an offer of $16,000,000 for the 16,000 acres they hold in Washington county, and the company is adding to its holdings, having on Tuesday bought the Isaac Van Voorhis tract of 500 acres in East Bethlehem township for about $15,000. The company has four large mining plants and will probably build a fifth one.

Wilkinsburg in Darkness.

A broken engine in the plant of the Monongahela Light Company in Wilkinsburg last night left the borough and a greater portion of Brushton without electric light and caused great inconvenience to residents and business men. SAYS JEWS INVITED KISHINEFF CRIMES

ber of the Pennsylvania judiciary, today in a statement replied to the assertions of Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, that the troubles in Kishineff are due to an uprising of peasants against the money lenders. Judge Sulzberger said:

Count Cassini is confronted with the fact that there have been assaults and murders of women, horrible cruelty to babies and murder of unoffending men committed. His first instinct is to excuse the criminals and throw the blame on the victims. A man with that attitude of mind is not to be argued with. His real conviction, of course, is that the common people have no rights and that what happens to them is a matter of supreme indifference, since there are so many of them that he can easily spare a few thousand. While all this massacre was occurring in Kishineff and went on three days, five Russian regiments were quartered in the town. It is therefore certain that the police and military departments permitted the massacre and are responsible for it.

Their responsibility is assumed and shared by all the people who think with Count Cassini. As regards his puerile remarks it is enough to say:

First—That the great bulk of the Jews of Russia are the poorest people in the world, and have no money to lend.

Second—That babies do not lend money.

Third—That murderous criminals are not usually borrowers.

On the other hand there have been known high officials living lives of luxury and debauchery who were in need of many thousand roubles and to whose depleted pockets the proceeds of loot and the price of protection might bring a new lease of revelry.

No doubt, in the usual relations of life the count is a gentleman in his manners and practices, but, after all, he is a Russian nobleman. If he wants the opinion of an unprejudiced American commissioner, let him read the report made to the United States government by Col. Weber and Dr. Walter Kempster, printed at the government printing office in 1892. There are in it such passages as even a Russian nobleman would blush to have submitted to the women of the United States.

CLEVELAND, O., May 21.—Two letters have been received by Samuel Kriegmond of 337 Woodland avenue from his sister, Sarah Kriegmond, Tiraspol, Cherson, Russia, a town 50 miles from Kishineff. The letters are dated May 30. One of them contains vivid accounts of the happenings there.

"Three weeks before the passover," it says, "a Russian boy was lost in Dubeassar, between Tiraspol and Kishineff. His dead body was found in a Jewish yard. The body was covered with gashes. Some Russians said the body was trapped for blood that was to be used for passover services. Disorderly scenes followed. Attempts to murder some Jews failed because the Jews were in the majority."

That was just before the beginning of the alleged atrocities. The letter cites numerous instances where men, women and children were horribly tortured and maltreated before being killed.

BRICKLAYERS QUIT.

All Work Stopped on Buildings Where N. S. M. U. Men Are Engaged.

Under direct supervision of George Gubbins, president of the Bricklayers' and Masons' International union, all the bricklayers engaged on buildings where members of the National Stone Masons' union were at work were called off yesterday. This ties up about 75 per cent of the buildings under way.

Gubbins said yesterday that the work on the buildings could be continued immediately if the contractors decided to employ only Bricklayers' and Masons' International union men. He claims he can secure all the stone masons necessary who are members of his organization.

George Jones, secretary of the National Stone Masons' union, is in the city directing the members of that organization. They claim to be able to secure bricklayers to fill the places of the Bricklayers' and Stone Masons' International union men.

SCALE ADJUSTED.

Tin Plate Conference Agreed on Prices for the Ensuing Year.

The officials of the Amalgamated association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers returned yesterday from New York, where they met the representatives of the American Tin Plate Company to adjust the scale. The limit of output on No. 31 gauge sheets per hour was increased 500 pounds for a turn's work of eight hours, and for gauges from No. 32 to No. 35 was increased to 300 pounds.

Clause No. 5, which caused some disturbance during the year, was modified by the workers, and is now satisfactory to the manufacturers.

The conference on the iron scale will open in Detroit next Tuesday, and the conference on sheet scales will occur immediately after it is ended.

Baron von Rheinbaben Is Coming to Pittsburgh.

This represents Baron von Rheinbaben, the German minister of finance, who is touring America to study industrial economics and who will visit Pittsburgh shortly, looking over the Baldwin locomotive works in Philadelphia. The baron is in the center of the front row, wearing a striped suit. Pointing is Mr. Johnson of Baldwin's. On this side of the baron is J. G. Darlington, former president of the Union League club, the baron's host.

Baron von Rheinbaben, minister of finance of the German empire and the probable successor of Count von Buelow as imperial chancellor, will visit Pittsburgh today to inspect local industrial plants. His journey is unofficial and his sojourn here will be marked by no formality. He will be accompanied by Mr. von Versen of the ministerial office and a member of the German consulate in New York.

Baron von Rheinbaben came to the United States last week to study American railroads and the improvements in manufactories. He visited the shipyards in Philadelphia and yesterday was shown through the Pennsylvania railroad shops at Altoona. He is expected to reach Pittsburgh late this afternoon and will be quartered at the Hotel Schenley. After visiting the leading points of interest in Pittsburgh he will go to Chicago, St. Louis and other western cities.

It is probable a dinner in the baron's honor will be given here by the leading German-American citizens.

Baron von Rheinbaben is one of the most progressive of the younger German statesmen. His aggressiveness is in keeping with the state, commercial and industrial policies of the emperor.

OVATION TO WHEELER.

General Advocates State Appropriations for Confederate Veterans.

NEW ORLEANS, May 21.—Gen. S. D. Lee presided at the opening session of the confederate reunion in the absence of Gen. Gordon, who remained in his room at the hotel to gain as much strength as possible for the ordeal of the parade tomorrow.

The report of the battle Abbey committee was offered by Gen. Clement A. Evans. He had read but a few words when Gen. Joseph Wheeler came into the hall and for a few moments all was over with the battle Abbey report, while the delegates cheered a welcome to the little commander.

Gen. Wheeler made a short address of thanks for the welcome accorded him. He urged upon his hearers the necessity of providing for the needy and aged soldiers of the Confederacy, suggesting the best way to bring this about was through the various state legislatures.

MURDERED IN SAIL BOAT.

Old Man Enticed to Take An Excursion and Killed for His Money.

KEY WEST, FLA., May 21.—(Special.)—Robert Everett is in jail here charged with the murder of M. Whitaker. The victim was 63 years old. He was known to carry a large sum on his person. According to the theory of the police, Everett enticed the old man to take a sail with him and when 15 miles from shore killed him with an ax, then taking a large sum of money from the dead man's pockets.

The body was hacked to pieces with the ax, the portion being dropped overboard one at a time. The crime was disclosed when a portion of the body, consisting of a shoulder, the neck and head were picked up by fishermen.

Men Had Narrow Escape.

LATROBE, PA., May 21.—The large boarding house, barn and stables of the Pennsylvania Silicia, Brick and Manufacturing Company at East Kingston, three miles south of Latrobe, on the Ligonier Valley railroad, were completely destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning. The 12 men sleeping in the house owe their escape to the fact that one of their number was taken ill suddenly. He arose to procure some medicine and saw the flames. They lost all their clothing and some of them money. It is said that the fire was due to incendiarism. The loss is $2,500 with $1,000 insurance. The plant is owned by Joseph B. McCabe, W. G. Humphrey, George Armstrong and other Pittsburgh capitalists.

AUTOMOBILE EXPLODES, INJURING MANY PERSONS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 21.—A score or more persons were injured by the explosion of the gasoline tank of an automobile, owned by Thomas D. Dewitt, a wholesale coal dealer, today. All the injured, among whom were a policeman and three firemen, were burned by the shower of blazing gasoline which followed the explosion. Several were taken to the hospital.

The automobile was in charge of a chauffeur who was taking it to a repair shop at the gasoline tank leaked badly. At Forty-seventh street he found the machine on fire from leakage from the gasoline tank and brought it to a halt. An alarm was sent and after vainly attempting to extinguish the flames with hand grenades the firemen turned a stream on the blazing vehicle.

By that time about 400 people had gathered close to the machine. The water had scarcely been turned on when the gasoline tank exploded. The burning fluid from the tank scattered in all directions and those in the front rank of the crowd caught the full force of it. The scene that followed the explosion was appalling. A score of men rolled on the ground and shrieked with pain, women fainted and the fire for a moment was forgotten. The firemen dropped the hose and running for their rubber coats and blankets extinguished the burning clothing of many.

Of the injured about a dozen had their burns dressed by ambulance surgeons and at the hospitals. As many more received attention in the neighboring drug stores.

HITCHCOCK BECOMES OKLAHOMA BOOMER

Secretary of Interior Returns from Tour and Declares for Admission of Territory.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Secretary Hitchcock was at the interior department today for the first time in almost a month, having just returned from a tour of inspection in Indian territory and Oklahoma, the first official visit ever made to these territories by the head of the department having supervision of their affairs.

"I am delighted with all that I saw," said the secretary, referring to his tour. "I found both territories populated by an intelligent and progressive people, and the population rapidly growing in both instances. Settlers are going into Indian territory from all the states of the union. This is accounted for by the exceptional richness of the soil, the fine climate and the many advantages presented for the advancement of the new settlers' fortunes."

Secretary Hitchcock took positive ground against the consolidation of the two territories and their admission as one state. "Such a union at this time and before the status of their Indians is fixed as contemplated by law," he said, "would be unfair to the Indians and should not be attempted—certainly not at this time. On the other hand, the people of Oklahoma are entitled to immediate statehood and there should be no delay in the admission of that territory with its present boundaries.

"The territory has the population and the wealth to make it a first-class state from the outset.

"The people of Oklahoma would be, I am sure, willing to accept statehood for that territory as it stands; indeed, they are willing to accept it either way. Indian territory has the population and the natural resources to make a fine state alone some day. The Indians do not desire the union."

VENEZUELAN REBELS WIN BIG VICTORY

Government Forces Under Gen. Gomez Defeated and Forced to Retreat.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

PORT OF SPAIN, TRINIDAD, May 21.—Gen. Vicente Gomez, with a large body of government forces of Venezuela, has just met serious defeat at the hands of the insurgents. He was marching upon Barquisimeto, the capital of the province of Lora, with orders to surround the town and capture Gen. Matos when he was intercepted at Tocacas and San Felipe by Gens. CLEVELAND, O., May 21.—(Special.)—Duss brought his great Metropolitan house orchestra to Cleveland last night, and never in the musical history of the city was a conductor so received. Nordica and De Reszke were the stellar attractions that sold the seats in advance. The soloists were received with enthusiasm. Nordica gave three encores to her aria from Il Trovatore. De Reszke gave four after the aria from La Juive.

Made Successful Ascent.

PARIS, May 21.—Santos Dumont made a successful ascent in his steerable balloon at Neuilly this afternoon in the presence of 5,000 spectators. The first attempt failed, owing to the guide rope becoming entangled in the balloon's propeller. A successful ascent was then made and the balloon proceeded to the Bois de Boulogne, where a number of evolutions were gone through, amid the applause of the spectators. After maneuvering for half an hour at a height of 600 feet above the polo grounds Santos Dumont returned to Neuilly.

AX OF VENGEANCE LAYS LOW POLES

than special messages were sent out along the line of the road ordering action. And action came. Beginning in Pittsburgh the gangs of section men were sent forth. All along the line of the road they chopped down the poles. Some of the poles were chopped to small pieces and the wires lay in confused and useless mass. At least one ingenious superintendent became tired of seeing the men work in the old-fashioned way—wielding axes. He secured an engine and a long rope. He had the rope tied to the top of a pole and fastened to the engine. The engine was then started and the rest was easy. Poles went down in quick order in his territory.

Two engines and a large crew of men went along the tracks through Pittsburgh and Brookdeck, and tore down the poles without removing the wires. Along toward 10 o'clock the men grew tired barely. Wilkinsburg, Swissvale, Edgewood, Braddock and Turtle Creek suffered the same fate. Poles went down in quick order in their territory.

Two engines and a large crew of men went along the tracks through Pittsburgh and Brookdeck, and tore down the poles without removing the wires. Along toward 10 o'clock the men grew tired barely. Wilkinsburg, Swissvale, Edgewood, Braddock and Turtle Creek suffered the same fate. Poles went down in quick order in their territory.

WORK IS COMPLETE.

After finishing the work at these places the crew and gangs proceeded to Pittsburg and completed the same work of getting rid of the property of the Western Union Telegraph Company. The wires were not cut and the wrecked poles and wires presented a tangled mass. The lights of Wilkinsburg were out for several hours last night, as the electric light wires were accidentally pulled down in some places along with the telegraph wires.

One incident of this work was the destruction for the time of the telephone service between the offices of the railroad company. The generator wire was strung on the Western Union poles and went down with the Western Union wires. The telephone service in the private one maintained by the company.

The managers of the Western Union had made provision for the court deciding in this way. About two years ago they saw the storm that was coming and began the construction of "pike" lines, securing rights of way along country roads where they would be forever secure from the changes due to railroad matters. They also looked up more closely with the Reading and the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh, and this past winter completed through to Butler a new series of trunk lines which give them practically the same amount of through service facilities that they had before the work of yesterday was done.

LOSE SOME BUSINESS.

They lose, of course, the business that comes from the telegraph offices of the railroad and from a number of towns along the Pennsylvania, but by means of their "pike" lines they tap the great majority of the towns in the route.

It is exactly what the Pennsylvania railroad expects to gain from this action except the pleasure of punishing the Gould interests for their eastern railroad projects is not apparent. How much punishment the Western Union will actually suffer is not yet apparent, either. The loss of poles will be considerable, and the wires which have been partially destroyed are not so valuable as they were when in place, but the loss of business seems likely to be much smaller than the Cassatt people expected.

But for an agreement between the Western Union people and the Delaware & Atlantic Telephone Company, Atlantic City would have been cut off from communication with the outside world last night by Western Union wires.

DID BUSINESS BY TELEPHONE.

Two gangs of railroad men started out early yesterday, one following the main line and the other the West Jersey division and began to lay the telegraph poles prostrate. The wires were not molested, but each pole was dropped in turn just outside the railroad's right of way. By nightfall both gangs were well on their way toward Camden. The Western Union lines were all out of order last night, but the company was accepting business as usual and sending dispatches over the leased telephone wires.

This action does not affect the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh. The Western Union's contracts with them have been made at various times. With some of the lines they were made before the Pennsylvania controlled them. The Western Union will be forced off the lines, however, as soon as the contracts expire. In the case of one or two of the lines the matter is now up for trial.

On the Baltimore & Ohio, which is controlled by the Pennsylvania, it can be expected also that such action will follow the expiration of the contract. Just when this contract will end is not known here.

CRUSADE AGAINST BEER.

Washington, Pa., Ministers to Preach Sermons Against Breweries.

WASHINGTON, PA., May 21.—A temperance crusade has been started here by the clergymen of Washington. The crusade has been agitated for some time, but nothing definite was done until a meeting last night, when it was decided to launch an attack against the breweries of the town at once. Many of the clergymen of the town have agreed to preach sermons next Sunday morning against the breweries and a vote will be taken asking the people to petition the clergy to stop the manufacture and sale of beer in Washington, which is said to be rapidly on the increase.

HOME FROM HONDURAS.

Consul Moe Played Important Part in the South American Revolution.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—Alfred K. Moe, United States consul at Tegucigalpa, capital of Honduras, has arrived on the steamer Newport on leave of absence and will visit his home in New Jersey. He played an important part recently in the capitulation of Tegucigalpa when the forces of the retiring president of the country gave way to the victorious army of Bonilla, the new president. The interests of Americans and other foreigners, he says, were not molested during the revolution.

Eugene J. Groetzner, an American of Salt Lake city who arrived from Corinto today on the steamer Newport, says that General Estrada, the leader of the forces of President Selaya of Nicaragua was killed in battle with the insurgents near Rivas on April 27. His troops were routed with great loss and the revolutionists succeeded in capturing a large quantity of arms and ammunition. The insurgents have the possession of the port of San Carlos and have complete control of Lake Nicaragua.

Mitchell Will Be Here.

President Patrick Dolan of District No. 5 of the United Mine Workers received a telegram yesterday afternoon from John Mitchell, president of the organization, stating that he would arrive in Pittsburgh Saturday morning. He comes for the purpose of holding mine meetings at Greensburg and Irwin. For some time the local officers have been trying to organize the district more completely, and considered that a mass meeting, with Mitchell as principal speaker, would greatly assist in the work.

Prisoner Fatally Shot.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Two prisoners in the Hudson hill (New Jersey) penitentiary made a break for liberty today. One of them, Charles Austell, was shot and will probably die. The other, Roy Carroll, was finally recaptured. Both were serving terms for robbery.

TRIED TO FORCE HIS WAY INTO JAIL

Joseph Myer of Mt. Vernon, O., visited the Allegheny county jail early yesterday morning and insisted on being locked up for six months. He made his demand in a forcible manner to Deputy Warden John McNeil, and when refused he pleaded pathetically to be confined. He asserted that he was hungry and McNeil was forced to believe this statement. Myer stated that it would take six months for him to recover from what he termed his "jag," and said he was refused sustenance. When told the name and address of a man who would give him $2, Mr. Myer fled.

HOAX OR TRAGEDY?

Senior of Medical Class at Ann Arbor Disappears in Very Mysterious Fashion.

ANN ARBOR, MICH., May 21.—(Special.)—Albert A. Patterson, vice president of the senior medical class, is either the victim of one of the most sensational tragedies ever recorded, or he is a prince of fakirs. Yesterday Patterson accompanied Miss Maude Hinman, of Kingston, N. Y., and her mother on a drive to Dexter and return. Miss Hinman is also a senior medical student and the fiancee of Patterson. It was arranged that should be married on the coming commencement day.

The party returned about 9 o'clock from Dexter and Patterson went to Mrs. Hinman's apartments and visited with his betrothed until nearly midnight. He then left his room in Huron street. Nobody heard him enter or leave his room. This morning his white crush hat was found on the lawn under his room window. There was a hole in it and the lid was spattered with blood.

This fact was reported to the police and they searched his desk and found an envelope marked as follows: "May 21, 12:30. Full allow. To be opened in case of my death or disappearance." Inside of this envelope was found a bit of theme paper on which was written this following mystic warning: "I. L. I.—by May 20 maxima."

CRISIS IN CHICAGO.

Many Industrial Establishments Are Closed by Disputes With Labor Unions.

CHICAGO, May 21.—(Special.)—An industrial crisis threatens Chicago, resulting from the rapid succession of strikes which now involve 25,000 laborers. There is stagnation in many lines of business. Three unions are said to have violated their contracts with the Metal Trades council in the past week, and some employers assert it will be necessary to lock out their workers to force the issue with the unions.

In the stockyards a report has been circulated that, owing to the labor disputes, all of the large packing plants will close their doors on Monday.

The National Biscuit Company has closed two of its plants, and 2,500 men and women are idle. The Hammond Packing company has partially closed and 1,000 employes are locked out. The Allis-Chalmers Company has closed and its 1,500 men are idle.

H. H. Kohlsaat & Co.'s bakery and eight lunch rooms are closed on account of a strike and 1,000 employes are idle.

SYNOD ELECTS OFFICERS.

Meeting of Ministers of Reformed Church Was Largely Attended.

CUMBERLAND, MD., May 21.—The sessions of the thirty-second annual synod, Pittsburgh synod, of the Reformed church, now being held in St. Mark's church, Cumberland, are largely attended, and many ministers of that faith from Pittsburgh and Western Pennsylvania and Maryland are in attendance. Two business sessions were held today, and this evening at 7:45 o'clock, after after services, conducted by the Revs. W. H. Lohr of Frostburg, Md., and A. W. Kahle of Greensburg, Pa., a missionary service was held, with an address on "Home Missions," by the Rev. J. F. Kerlin, of Jeannettown, Pa., and an address on "Foreign Missions" by the Rev. J. D. Hunsicker of Glassport, Pa.

The officers elected today were: Vice president, the Rev. William H. Lohr of Frostburg, Pa.; corresponding secretary, the Rev. A. W. Kahle, Stoner Creek, Pa.; treasurer, the Rev. William C. Bubes, of Berlin, Pa. The Rev. Homer S. May, Kelin, Pa., is the stated clerk.

MURDER IS SUSPECTED.

Reynold's Empty Buggy Found With Satchel on Seat Rifled.

WASHINGTON, PA., May 21.—W. F. Reynolds, 56 years old, was found missing Thursday at 204 Seventh avenue, West Washington, since last Monday afternoon. It is supposed that he was robbed and his body thrown into the Monongahela river.

He left home in a buggy to cover a route for a nursery concern with which he was connected. Yesterday morning the horse was found near Webster, still attached to the buggy, on the seat of which was a satchel. Reynolds always was in the habit of carrying his business papers and valuables. The satchel had evidently been rifled.

DETECTIVE ROBBED IN DETROIT HOTEL

DETROIT, MICH., May 21.—Detective F. G. Kerlin of Philadelphia was robbed while asleep last night in his room at the Hotel Cadillac of money and valuables aggregating $600. A traveling man in an adjoining room was also robbed of a gold watch and chain and $25. Detective Kerlin believes that the thief obtained him.

Three Injured in Wreck.

WARREN, O., May 21.—An open switch caused two passenger trains to come together on the Pennsylvania road today and three persons were slightly injured. Mrs. Joseph Wilkins of New Castle, Pa., was cut on the head. Fireman Cecil McKnight of Clarksville suffered a sprained back, and Baggage Master J. C. McKnight of Mahoningtown was cut on the head and face.

DEMOCRATS FIX A LOW PRICE

Bigelow Will Get Fusion Without Giving Much in Return.

CONTROLS DEMOCRACY

County Chairman Alcorn Will Name Conferees Who Will Take Orders from the Boss of the New Machine.

Democratic bosses may have some trouble if they enter into the proposed fusion deal on the terms proposed by Thomas S. Bigelow. He is credited with having agreed to give the Democrats a jury commissioner and prothonotary, and he will take the district attorney, sheriff and director of the poor.

The Democrats are entitled to the jury commissioner and would only be getting a nomination for prothonotary by selling out to the machine on the proposed basis. Without the Democracy Bigelow cannot hope to win this fall. The rank and file believe that the price of fusion should be two of the good offices in addition to the jury commissioner.

Bigelow will no doubt have his way, as he controls the Democratic organization. County Chairman T. E. Alcorn will name five fusion conferees who will do the bidding of the heads of the new machine. They will be men who either hold county or city office, or have friends in public positions through the courtesy of Bigelow. These committeemen will be told that the majority of the places are to go to Bigelow's Citizens machine and Bigelow's machine. Democrats will speedily agree with him.

BIGELOW WILL CONTROL.

There may be some protests in the Democratic county convention, but the machine Democrats will compose a majority of the convention and vote to continue their jobs by putting through the slate Bigelow has made for them. Under the new rules there are less than 100 delegates in the convention, so it will be an easy matter for the Bigelow machine Democrats to secure control, unless the uncontrolled end of the Democracy shows a trifle more life than it did in the February election. Bigelow will not only tell the Democrats how many places they can have on the ticket, but he will select the candidates for them. He is determined not to have another Democrat of the independence of Register George H. Stengel.

Charles A. Fagan was absent from his office yesterday. The only information given out was that he was out of the city. When a Democratic leader leaves town these days it is at once agreed that he has gone to Cambridge Springs to see Chairman Alcorn about the appointment of the fusion conferees. This was not true in the case of Fagan, as it was learned that he had gone to Washington.

VERY ATTENTIVE NOW.

Since the plans for another fusion fight are under way effort is being made to placate some of the Democrats who have failed so far to get city jobs. Friends of Mayor W. B. Hays are giving out the story that he is doing all in his power to take care of the delegates to the Democratic city convention. There are Democrats who can show that this spirit is newly born. Democrats who had the best of recommendations have been turned down.

The Republican city committee will meet tonight at 8 o'clock for organization. So far no candidate in opposition to Chairman M. G. Leslie has appeared. At headquarters no reports on the election of committeemen have been gotten from the Nineteenth, Twenty-fifth and Thirty-fourth wards. The officials at headquarters request that the new county committeemen send in their credentials promptly, as it is desired to make up the membership roll as speedily as possible.

WOMEN IN DESPERATION

Don't know what to do this hot weather, the coal fires heat the house up so. There's only one remedy—the ideal fuel, natural gas. When your meal is cooked, just turn off the gas; no heat through the house. No fuel wasting after the meal is cooked. More money is wasted in coal that is not used but has to be let die down in the stove, than would pay the bill for enough gas to do the same work. Ask at the Philadelphia Company, 435 Sixth avenue. If you apply this month service connections will be made and meter set free of charge.

THOMAS MORRISON LEAVES CARNEGIE STEEL COMPANY

Charles Dinkey. Thomas Morrison. John Lewis.

Thomas Morrison, general superintendent of the Edgar Thomson steel works and furnaces of the Carnegie Steel company at Braddock, yesterday announced that he would resign his position, sever his connections with the company and retire from active business. The announcement was a surprise. Charles Dinkey, general superintendent of the Homestead steel works of the Carnegie company, who has been assistant superintendent of the Homestead steel works for the past several years, will succeed Mr. Morrison, and John Lewis, master mechanic at the Edgar Thomson furnaces, will be made his assistant. Daniel Seigh, Mr. Lewis' assistant, will become master mechanic, succeeding Mr. Lewis. All the changes are to go into effect June 1, and formal notices will be issued by President W. E. Corey of the Carnegie Steel company today.

Thomas Morrison, the retiring superintendent, is a nephew of Andrew Carnegie. He was born in Scotland, December 5, 1861, and was educated in the common schools of Dumfermline. He served an apprenticeship as machinist and engineer, and decided to make it his life's profession. In 1886 he came to America and located in Western Pennsylvania. His first position in this country was secured in the Homestead steel works as a machinist, and later he became assistant master mechanic and was promoted to be superintendent of the armour plate mills. In 1891 he became superintendent of the Duquesne steel works of the Carnegie Steel company, a position which he held until March 1, 1895, when he succeeded James Gayley as superintendent at Braddock. Mr. Morrison's rise has been remarkably rapid and the Edgar Thomson mills were brought to a high standard under his management. Mr. Morrison is a director in the Carnegie Steel company and one of its largest stockholders. He is reputed to be worth $10,000,000. In announcing his retirement Mr. Morrison stated he desired to be free from business cares and, in company with his wife, would make an extended tour of Europe, sailing about June 1. He said he had no plans beyond his trip.

Charles Dinkey, the present assistant superintendent of the Edgar Thomson plant, who will succeed to the general superintendency after June 1, is but 32 years old, and has been employed in the steel and iron industry all his life. After leaving school he entered the Carnegie mills at Braddock, where he worked in various capacities in the plant for several years. He was also employed in a number of the steel mills in this city and at Chicago. When the foundry department at the Edgar Thomson plant was started he was made superintendent, and later had charge of the experimental department in the converting, bloom and rail mills. For the past three years he has been assistant to General Superintendent Morrison.

The salary paid the general superintendent of the Edgar Thomson mills is not known, but the late Capt. William R. Jones received $50,000 a year while he was in charge of the plant.

John Lewis, the master mechanic at the Edgar Thomson furnaces, who will be assistant general superintendent of the plant after June 1, has been employed at the Edgar Thomson mills all his life.

JUVENILE DETENTION ROOMS IN THE JAIL

Commissioners Have Decided to Use Apartments on Third Floor of the Prison.

Rooms of detention in accordance with the provisions of the juvenile court act are to be provided in the county jail. The commissioners have decided that some apartments in the third story of the building are suitable and they will be gotten in readiness.

The law does not permit the placing of children under 16 years of age in the same prison with adults. The women who are interested in the juvenile court work wanted a place of detention entirely separate from the jail building. The commissioners are unable to grant their request, but believe that they are complying with the law in using five or six unoccupied rooms on the third floor of the prison building.

The rooms are directly above the quarters occupied by the matrons at the jail and are in no way connected with the prison proper. The children detained in them could not see any of the adult prisoners or come in contact with them in any way. If it were possible to reach the hospital wards of the jail without going through the prison, they would be utilized for detention purposes.

It will be necessary to provide at least three attendants for the juveniles. The law does not compel the county to pay their expenses, but it is probable that the commissioners will agree to add the attendants to the county payroll.

Inventors Each Lose a Finger.

While working with a machine which they claim will do away with razors for shaving purposes, Albert Fisher and Edward Roth, barbers, living at Woodlair and Thirty-ninth streets, each lost a finger in a peculiar manner yesterday morning. After Fisher's finger had been amputated Roth attempted to show a friend how the accident happened, when one of his fingers was caught in the machine and also cut off.

FOUR MEN BURNED.

Explosion Caused by Dropping Molten Steel Into Cold Water.

Four men were badly burned by an explosion of molten steel in open hearth No. 3, at the Homestead steel works, shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday morning. They are John Whipkey, aged 35 years, of No. 222 Fifteenth avenue, Homestead; Joseph Harkins, aged 27 years, of Swissvale; Joseph Cronin, aged 25 years, of No. 526 Ammon street, Homestead, and Robert Mort, aged 30 years, of No. 235 Fifth avenue, Homestead.

The accident was caused by the dumping of a ladle of molten steel into a large quantity of water in the cinder pit near the open hearth.

READY TO MAKE DEED FOR SITE

Orphans' Court May Be Asked to Order the Transfer of the Property.

TECH SCHOOL PLANS

Possibility of Some Departments Being Ready for Use in the Fall of 1904—Architects Will Soon Begin Part of the Work.

H. S. A. Stewart, the executor of the C. L. Magee estate, who has been conducting the negotiations for the sale of the Flinn-Magee property to the city for the technical school, returned to this city yesterday and arrangements for the sale of the property will be begun at once. An order may be asked of the orphans' court today by Cyrus Gray, trust officer of the Fidelity Trust Company, which will negotiate the sale.

Mr. Stewart stated yesterday that since the property is in the name of Senator William Flinn and the Magee estate, a joint deed will be prepared which will be signed by Flinn and his wife and by the Fidelity Trust Company for the Magee estate. He was unable to say just when the sale will be consummated, but stated that every effort will be made to bring about the transfer at the earliest possible moment.

The board of trustees of the Carnegie Institute expects to have some of the technological school building under way by next spring. This would mean that some departments could be open to students within a year from next fall. The trustees have been unable to even retain an architect for the new school until the city turns over the site. There had been so much uncertainty with reference to the probable site that it was impossible to start the architects at work on plans in advance, as had been done with the institute.

Just as soon as possible the architects will be retained and the work will commence. They will probably not complete their plans before next fall and then the institute trustees will have to act upon them. It is believed that the contracts can be let during the fall, and if there are no further delays the work can be commenced then. If this program is followed, the new buildings would probably be under way by next spring.

The Junction railroad officials say that there is no possibility of their building freight yards on the property they wish to acquire from the Flinn-Magee tract. Robert Finney, general agent for the railroad, speaking of this feature, said: "It would be a physical impossibility to build freight yards on the property they wish us to use for that purpose. In the first place the grade is too heavy. It rises 71 feet to the mile. Secondly, we would have to do much of our shifting in the tunnel. This, of course, is impossible. There is no danger whatever of freight tracks being built there. If the property is ever used it will be for a handsome passenger station."

BIG MEETING OF OLD EMPLOYES

CARNEGIE REMEMBERED

Memorial Services Were Observed for 16 Members of the Association Who Died During the Last Year.

"Andrew Carnegie."

The secretary of the Veteran Employes' association of the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania railroad yesterday afternoon, at the twelfth annual meeting of the organization in Kennywood park, called out the name of the steelmaster and old time railroader in a loud voice that hushed the big assemblage. There was no response. Mr. Carnegie is at his castle in Scotland, but nevertheless is remembered by his fellow-workmen who served under him when he was superintendent of the local division of the Pennsylvania.

"R. P."

The response came quickly and brought a thrill over the meeting. "R. P." are two letters to conjure with among the old-timers on the Pennsylvania. They represent the initials of Robert Pitcairn, and in railroad circles the veteran superintendent who last year was made the Pittsburgh assistant to President A. J. Cassatt is known only by those two magic letters—"R. P."

Then followed the names of nearly 500 men who gave the best years of their lives to the service of the great railroad. They included the men who served 21 years or more with the company, representing veterans from Mr. Carnegie down to those who hold the humblest positions.

The members gathered at Grant street shortly after noon and went to the park in special cars provided by the Pittsburgh Railways Company. The meeting was held in the pavilion, where memorial exercises were held for the 16 members who have died during the last year. Following this the members enjoyed the afternoon in the park with their families and friends. Dinner was served early in the evening and the celebration was given over to informal toasts and speeches.

Special services were also held for the following dead:

W. S. McCoy, John Keenan, J. L. McClelland, H. E. Watson, C. J. Luckett, L. Overmartin, J. W. Kempering, W. N. Nave, J. C. Rayburn, N. W. Smith, P. L. Terry, Robert Gumbert, Charles W. Ward, Edward Miller, Joseph Stewart and R. G. McCormick.

A choir composed of George Wagner, Joseph T. and G. M. Alexander, H. L. Delo and John L. Alexander furnished impressive music.

The oldest employe in the association is Thomas Ridley, first vice president, who has rounded out a half a century with the Pennsylvania. J. F. Rumpon, a yardmaster on the Pittsburgh division in the days of the civil war, is another old-timer. He is now yardmaster for the Erie railroad at Youngstown. John Major, who first worked on the Old Portage road in the 40's, entered the service of the Pittsburgh division in 1850. He is among the most enthusiastic members of the association, despite the fact that he is almost 80 years of age.

R. L. O'Donnell, Mr. Pitcairn's successor in the office of superintendent of the Pittsburgh division, but now connected with the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley division, came here with Buckelew, assistant engineer, to attend the meeting. The officers of the association are: President, Robert Pitcairn; vice president, Thomas Ridley; secretary, E. S. Batchelor; treasurer, John Aldrich; executive committee, Col. T. E. Watt, Edward Pitcairn, J. K. Russell, Fred Ehrenfeld, George A. Cassidy, J. M. Alexander and D. W. D. McKelvey.

If you find a cold creeping on, keep a bottle of Dr. Jayne's Expectorant near at hand, and take a dose occasionally. It will relieve at once, and soon bring about a cure.

This season's models are about as smart as any we ever had, $2.50 each and along to $10. Mohair and serge suits in all the surf colors.

Men's Negligee Shirts.

$1 is little enough to pay for a good and stylish Negligee Shirt. If not, take the plain bosoms.

For men who are not inclined to wear shirts of a dollar grade, we have the finer makes, those at $1.50, $2, $2.50, $3 and $3.50.

Friday, May 22, 1903.

Notice from the postoffice department that several thousand promotions cannot be allowed because insufficient appropriations were made is naturally disappointing to those who had expected increases in salaries. There is nothing to do, however, but accept the fate that has befallen them. It is probable the circumstance will work to the detriment of the postal service, because the greater rewards in private business are likely to entice efficient men to quit the government employ and seek other occupation. In that aspect the public deplores the situation.

Thomas S. Bigelow is making up a fusion ticket much as he did last winter. He has the power apparently to apportion the places on the ticket that are to go to each party, and it is said can obtain the official Democratic consent to any program he maps out. We cannot say positively that this is true. Presumptive evidence is in favor of such a conclusion, for that power is the natural result of what has gone before. The public, however, can afford to await developments and to watch Mr. Bigelow working out his plans or pleasure. There is no occasion for becoming excited during this torrid weather, or bringing on needless perspiration.

Postmaster General Payne has again disappointed his critics. So far from trying to suppress any part of the investigation of his department he has broadened its scope. Instead of being hounded into drawing hasty conclusions upon any charge, he is giving those concerned amplest opportunity to defend against charges, and to others every facility for bringing proof to support their charges. Mr. Payne evidently means to give the whole truth and nothing but the truth and to withhold opinions in the main until his case is fully made up. He has, however, announced his disapproval of Superintendent Machen's methods in permitting the deficiencies to grow in his division.

Attorney General Carson's opinion that state hospitals must admit the criminal insane is good common sense. There is, at present, no other institution to which the criminal insane can be properly committed. There are good arguments in favor of creating a special institution for the criminal insane, but until that is provided they must be sent to existing asylums which alone have any facilities for their care. Penitentiaries have no suitable accommodations for the insane and their incarceration in such prisons would be detrimental alike to the insane and the sane prisoners. The next legislature may well consider the founding of a place for the criminal insane.

The time granted by Judge Cantrill during which an application might be made to the Kentucky court of appeals for a writ of prohibition to restrain him from presiding during the next trial of Caleb Powers for complicity in the Goebel murder has expired and Judge Cantrill proposes to try the case. The persistence of Judge Cantrill in this matter is amazing. His only support is that of gross partisans who would have him sacrifice all of the dignity of the court in pursuit of political revenge. It is not at all probable any jury can be secured to condemn any of these defendants to death as long as Cantrill sits as judge and forces verdicts of guilty, so Cantrill should grant a change of venue to get either a first degree verdict or an acquittal in accord with the facts. His perversity passes understanding.

Men are animals after all. They are not even free from the blood madness. The commotion in the menagerie, when one beast of prey smells blood, has its analogy in southeastern Europe. First the Macedonian outbreak, then the massacre of Jews in Bessarabia, next Kurdish assaults upon the Armenians, the uprising against reforms of the Albanians and finally the revolt of the Croatians against Hungary. The feud between Slav and Magyar is as old almost as that between Christian and Jew and older than that between Mohammedan and Christian. It is odd how these fanatical hatreds persist in the old world monarchies, and it is strange how the blood-thirst communicates itself from one province to another until the whole region from the Danube to the Black sea is in turmoil.

How serious is the political ferment in Russia comes out in the publication of ministerial orders to the deposed Gov. De Baarbon of Bessarabia. When it was known that an anti-Semitic outbreak was imminent, orders were sent to Bogdanovitch to prevent it if possible without resort to harsh measures, but to do nothing likely to estrange the peasantry, "where there has been no propaganda" from the government. Hence the fanatics were permitted to perpetrate the shameful outrages. The decree, however, recognized the activity of the "propaganda," which had an illustration in the assassination of Gov. Bogdanovitch at Ufa on Tuesday. Socialism threatens monarchy in Germany and Nihilism threatens it in Russia and the reactionary council mistakenly endeavors to uphold itself on a basis of ignorance and prejudice, while the czar and the progressists favor increase of liberty to avert revolution.

The Whither of It.

A proposition previously "placed before the Michigan legislature that the incurably insane be put to death" was matched yesterday with a similar proposition placed before the same legislature as "a substitute for an appropriation bill for a home for the feeble minded." We have, therefore, if the reports are reliable, one proposition to kill those declared to be incurably insane and another to kill those who are pronounced hopeless idiots. Each is supported by arguments based on alleged humanitarian considerations. An Indianapolis physician, who is described in the news dispatches as "a noted alienist," speaking, as he says, "not from a Christian point of view, but from the standpoint of the civilization and welfare of the state," declares that death is "the best that can happen to the incurably insane," who "drag out their days in misery and suffering, enjoying nothing and understanding nothing." The legislator who furthers the proposition to similarly dispose of defective children backed it up "with the plea that humanitarian interests demand the removal of children whose minds are such as to render them a burden to society and incapable of happiness for themselves."

Naturally such sentiments shock the average reader, to whom human life, however clouded, is a precious thing. He may, after thought, excuse a "noted alienist" for holding such views, for such a one necessarily sees all matters of the sort from another standpoint. But he cannot so readily excuse members of a legislature who seriously propose to carry out the theories of "advanced" scientists, who apply materialistic principles to conditions of life. The average reader will agree that for the incurable idiot death might be better than life, or at least no worse. But if the principle be admitted that for those whom life seems to hold no hope death shall be decreed, where shall the application of the principle stop?

It is not necessary to view the matter from the Christian's standpoint to see objections to an attempt to remedy certain human ills in the way proposed. If, on the ground of their own good and the good of society, the lives of the insane and of the idiotic are to be blotted out, how long would society, once accustomed to the workings of the principle, pause before extending it? How long would it be until death would be prescribed for other ills, with the hope or expectation that workhouses, poor houses, homes for the aged, asylums for the afflicted and other agencies of help and amelioration that we associate with advanced civilization would be banished from the land? If all who are pronounced a burden to themselves and to society are to be killed by society, how long will it be until civilization is mere savagery? In the operation of such a law how many mistakes would be made and how many crimes committed?

Civilization has not advanced by any such course as is suggested by the authors of the measures before the Michigan legislature. Its upward and onward course has been helped and stimulated by its helpfulness to the delinquent and the defective. Human progress in the arts and sciences and industries has had philanthropy for its pacemaker; has been stimulated by consideration for the afflicted, and even for the criminal. Suffering and affliction have not been drags upon the achievement of the race where it has met the responsibility they imposed, but they have spurred its best effort to devise means for the cure and prevention of suffering and affliction. In this way the highest good of all has been contributed to; all benefit because of it. The people who care for the afflicted are those who average highest in the scale of material comfort and well-being. Is there no lesson in this? The most progressive nations are those which take the best care of the insane and the idiotic and of the suffering of every class, not only because they lift the level of humanity nearer to the heaven-like ideal, but because they learn from care of the afflicted the prevention and the real cure of the ills from which humanity suffers. If the afflicted are to be summarily executed, not only is the stimulus to good deeds removed and humanity brutalized, but science loses the impetus and influence of their presence in its studies and investigations, which are leading by slow steps to the perfection of the race. From this point the end can be seen without the eye of prophecy. Shall we travel toward it from the Michigan starting point?

The trouble with the noted alienist and the few members of the Michigan legislature who seem to be afflicted with a dangerous "little learning" in a marked degree is, first, that they do not see far enough to view the goal toward which their theories lead, and, second, that they are ignorant of what dynamite their theories are loaded with. Besides, it is probably the silly season at Lansing, Mich., if not also at Indianapolis, Ind.

On any other theory the outbreak would be inexcusable, for the man who imagines himself competent to say that any one is incurably insane would probably conclude in the end, if constituted sole judge, that he alone was wise enough to be allowed to live.

Social Patriotism.

Are we to have a renaissance of social patriotism? Following the gunpowder explosions of the Hon. Henry Watterson in derision of the un-American character of some of the Newport and New York society doings we have the blunt disavowal on the part of Mr. Andrew Carnegie of any affiliation, sympathy or connection with the so-called American "smart set." Watterson's tirades were mostly explosive and went up in smoke. Characteristically, the Carnegie sarcasm is biting and business-like. The steel king is indignantly intolerant of the weaknesses and hypocrisy of the self-appointed aristocracy of money, and makes use of that deliciously descriptive epigram "It is only a few generations from shirt-sleeves to shirt sleeves in America." But on top of all of this evidence of a revival of patriotism in social shaping and discipline comes the announcement that Senator M. A. Hanna has interdicted the purchase of his daughter's wedding trousseau in Paris, declaring that American made clothes are good enough for any American girl to be married in, a doctrine which the prospective bride agrees with heartily.

If these social manifestations and edicts indicate a tendency on the part of certain Americans of wealth and influence to oppose the further encroachments of foreign ideas and customs, the reform may be welcomed as auspicious and timely. Not that the general public cares very much one way or another what certain scions of wealthy families do to make themselves ridiculous, but the revival "at the top" of a genuinely sensible and practically effective spirit of Americanism may advantageously affect the whole social body, renewing the faith and affection of the people in those old and simple forms of life that contributed so much to the vigor, strength and stability of early American character.

Count Cassini Discounted.

The Russian ambassador to the United States was quoted a few days ago as declaring in partial explanation of the atrocities committed upon the Jews in Bessarabia that the Jews in Russia had refused to become identified with agricultural pursuits, preferring to be money lenders and grog shop keepers, thus corrupting the Russian peasants, who in turn rose against their commercial oppressors. If Count Cassini has been correctly quoted he is wide of the facts and his statements should not be allowed to go uncorrected in justice to the Jews in Russia, who, whatever justifying cause they may have offered for the ill treatment they have suffered, cannot be held guilty on this charge. Indeed, the very opposite condition exists, for Russia has strictly forbidden the Jewish population in the provinces of West, South and Little Russia to engage in agricultural pursuits at all, confining them to the towns.

This alleged assertion on the part of Count Cassini gives pertinency to the facts concerning Jewish occupancy of Russia and the terms upon which they have been permitted to reside there. They found their first admission into the country two centuries ago under an edict of Peter the Great. Less than a century afterward they were all expelled by Elizabeth, but Catherine II., who succeeded Elizabeth, readmitted them and Alexander I. gave them full liberty in trade and industry. Again, later, Nicholas I. withdrew these privileges and excluded them from a large part of the kingdom, crowding them into small provinces. In acquiring Poland later, Russia became the land of the largest Jewish population in the world. And it may be added, incidentally, that she treats these alien citizens with more severity than any other country in the world. They are practically excluded from the service of the state, are compelled to live within the towns and are strictly forbidden to purchase, rent or occupy any agricultural lands.

The proverbial thrift of the Jews finds its expression, however, under even these unfavorable conditions. In competition with the weak and thriftless Russian peasant the Jew acquires all the trade and prosperity. Some one has very justly declared that the law compels the Jew in Russia to do the very things for which he is now being condemned. He has not taken to agriculture because the law sternly forbids. He has prospered in the towns because the law has forced him into trade.

Rosebery for Free Trade.

Lord Rosebery expresses astonishment that his speech of Tuesday has been construed as an indorsement of the tariff union views of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain. The Liberal party, Lord Rosebery says, cannot separate itself from the doctrine of free trade to which it has adhered for more than half a century. In that Lord Rosebery restricts the Liberal party to an unfortunate position, since there is a rapidly growing sentiment in Great Britain favorable to protection, particularly among manufacturers and the industrial classes.

Premier Balfour's recent disclaimer of any intent on the part of the Conservative government to establish or encourage protection leaves Rosebery's declaration no chance to do positive harm. But if Conservative and Liberal leaders refuse to recognize any change in conditions or public sentiment, they need hardly be surprised if there shall be a natural drifting toward Mr. Chamberlain and a third party. The Liberal Unionists have been quite firmly attached to Conservative fortunes, but there is nothing inherent in the coalition that can prevent a separation under favorable circumstances. Economic considerations are stronger than policies of empire in these latter days and the ambitious Mr. Chamberlain is aware of the fact.

The weather doctors are saying that this is an unprecedentedly hot May. The ordinary sufferers in the street are not using quite so long an adjective.

The German representative at Washington will be something more than a "speck" in the diplomatic firmament after July 1st next.

A baseball game tried to get gay with a snow storm out in Colorado the other day, but only managed to last one inning in the mixup.

The season's crop of shirtwaists blossomed early and bears some signs here and there of being a part of the last summer output.

With an American husband and American-made clothes Miss Ruth Hanna will have quite a patriotic wedding.

The Chicago laundry strike is still on and the paper collar is considered the proper thing at swell functions.

Count Cassini doubtless finds the spring temperature very much hotter than does the ordinary citizen.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN JONES.

From the Buffalo Express.

The late B. F. Jones of Pittsburgh was not only a great independent steel maker, but he won prominence as chairman of the Republican national committee during two campaigns. To him was written the "Florence letter," in which James G. Blaine declined to be considered as a candidate before the convention of 1888.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

The death of Benjamin F. Jones removes a public spirited man from the great and growing coterie of millionaires who have built up Pittsburgh and Allegheny city. While one of the iron and steel "barons," Mr. Jones will best be remembered by the general public as the chairman of the Republican national committee during the presidential campaign of 1884. That was the year when Cleveland defeated Blaine by a few hundred votes in the city of New York. The manipulations of Tammany were responsible for turning the country over to the Democrats. Blaine actually won that fight. Of that there can be little doubt.

From the Philadelphia Press.

Mr. B. F. Jones, who died in Pittsburgh yesterday in his 70th year, was one of the best specimens of a type of men who have made Pennsylvania the greatest of industrial states. Solidity of judgment, energy and high character, joined with those peculiar gifts which mark the organizer and developer of industrial opportunities, brought Mr. Jones early to the front and have made him for nearly 50 years one of the leading men of Pittsburgh and for more than half that period one of the foremost citizens of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Jones' monument is his large and controlling share in building up the enormous iron and steel business with which his name is associated. This began with the ownership of a single iron furnace and forges in 1847, and has steadily grown and developed by natural process of accretion and expansion until now the value of the plant and business of Jones & Laughlin is variously estimated from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000. It is a great business and a great fortune built up by one whose sole original capital was brains, grit and ambition and the prescience to recognize opportunity before others and the courage to seize upon it.

That Pennsylvania's great development was made possible and immensely facilitated by the policy of giving American capital and labor an advantage in the home market was so clearly perceived by Mr. Jones that he has been all his life a stanch protectionist and an effective advocate before committees of congress and elsewhere of the Republican protective policy. Though not a politician in the ordinary sense, when he was selected by Mr. Blaine to be chairman of the Republican national committee in 1884 the fitness of the appointment was universally recognized. It was a difficult campaign, with many Republicans in sullen revolt, either remaining neutral or supporting the Democratic candidate. Though the result was most disappointing to Republicans, no one could assert that it was due to any lack of intelligent effort, energy, oversight and zeal on the part of the chairman of the Republican national committee.

Mr. Jones' primacy in the iron and steel business was recognized by his election and retention since 1884 as president of the American Iron and Steel association. He dies in the fullness of years, with a great record of accomplishment behind him. Pennsylvania loses one of its great captains of industry, but not until his warfare had been accomplished and his victory achieved.

From the Titusville Herald.

E. F. Jones, the Pittsburgh iron master, whose death was reported yesterday, was many times a millionaire. It was back in the 50's that he laid the foundation for what has since become a colossal fortune. One day, in one of the mills of what was then the American Iron and Steel works, a workman got his tongs fast to a bar of red-hot iron, and before they could be disengaged they were drawn through the rapidly whirling rolls under enormous pressure. Instead of being crushed and broken, they came out flattened, of no more use as tongs, but a mass of iron of high polish and changed texture. Jones and his partner, Laughlin, conferred over the phenomenon and after a series of experiments evolved a method of rolling iron cold, which they had patented and on which they made an enormous amount of money. The workman who let his tongs go through the rollers received a present of $20,000.

IN THE EYE OF FAME.

Fred W. Atkinson, the former superintendent of education in the Philippines, has just been elected superintendent of schools at Newton, Mass.

Brander Matthews, head of the department of dramatic literature at Columbia university, has been elected to succeed the late Prof. Thomas Randolph Price as head of the department of English.

Justin Huntly McCarthy is frequently confused with his father, Justin McCarthy. This is not surprising, since, besides being of the same name, they are both historians, both novelists and both have been members of parliament. Justin Huntly McCarthy, the son, left parliament after Parnell's defeat, and thenceforth devoted himself to literary work.

Edward A. Caraway, now a government police officer at the Charlestown navy yard, has just begun the 52d year of his service as an employe of the navy department. He is now 67 years old. At one time Mr. Caraway served in the famous squadron of Commodore Perry, whose ships remained in eastern waters until March 6, 1854, when the treaty opening the ports of Japan to the world was signed.

THE PLANTING OF A TREE.

Wouldst thou upbuild a home where sweet wild flowers are nested,
Glad with the sound of song, quick with the flash of wings,
Where the soft broods may rock, warm housed and unmolested,
Deep in the leafy nooks, through all the changeful springs?

Or wouldst thou rear an arch of noblest grace and splendor,
Lifted in air and light, shaped by the sun and storm,
Moved by the wandering wind, swayed by each influence tender,
Yet by the hand of life molded to steadfast form?

Wouldst thou make day more fair, and night more rich and holy,
Winter more keenly bright, and summer's self more dear—
Grant the sweet earth a gift, deep-rooted, ripening slowly,
Add to the sum of joys that bless the rounded year?

Go, then, and plant a tree, lovely in sun and shadow,
Gracious in every kind—maple and oak and pine,
Peace of the forest glade, wealth of the fruitful meadow,
Blessings of dew and shade, hereafter shall be thine.

For though thou never see the joy thy hand hath granted,
Those who shall follow thee thy generous boon may share.
Thou shalt be Nature's child, who her best fruit hath planted,
And each of many a spring shall find thy gift more fair.

—St. Nicholas.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

There's not a string attuned to mirth
But has its chord in melancholy.
—Hood.

When reading humorous sketches that have caused you to smile, or maybe gave you a choking feeling in the throat, or sent your heart out to some other heart in distress or in joy, did it ever occur to you that the writer knew whereof he wrote, and knew it only as those can know who know from experience?

Or, when compelled to laugh outright—laugh until your sides ache and your eyes look copiously, at the odd conceit, or unique conception of a familiar truth, have you ever realized that it may have been only a contrast, and not the real truth as the writer had learned it? Had you read between the lines you might still have laughed, or smiled, but you would have smiled through tears perhaps, and felt a strong desire to draw nigh unto one so gifted as to see the silver lining of the dark cloud which overshadowed and enveloped him in gloom.

The seriousness of humorists is proverbial, while great entertainers are often, if not generally, the saddest of men.

It was told by Abernathy, the famous Scotch physician, that he once advised a blue, a very blue, patient to go and hear a certain world-famed comedian who was then playing an engagement in Edinburgh. The patient only sighed: "Alas! dear doctor, I am he."

Only a few seasons ago a great circus exhibitor here boasted of having one of the greatest clowns on earth. He certainly was a prime favorite with the people when in the ring, but outside he was taciturn, despondent, or homesick—homesick for the wife and wee Jean over in York state. For a day or two he had been unusually blue, but never had appeared to better advantage in the ring.

At the afternoon performance on this particular occasion he was the whole show. Not only did he captivate the great crowd, but the show people themselves were surprised, as well as delighted, and applauded him roundly.

With the close of the last act he made a dash for the dressing room, where he threw himself on the ground and cried as though his heart would break. In answer to the anxious inquiries of his best friends he drew from his clown pantaloons a crumpled telegram bearing a message in four words: "Jean died today. Come."

Only those who can feel keenly can cause you to feel deeply.

Be sure, therefore, when you read a sketch or poem that touches your heart, that the heart of the writer was even more keenly touched.

The poet who moves you to tears by his tender lines was also moved to tears by the memory of that which he wrote, for no poem, be it ever so stately, so elegant, so well worded, will move the reader to tears unless there are tears in it.

Sol Smith Russel used to say there were poems from which he had never been able to extract all the tears, no matter how often he might recite them.

At supper one evening with James Whitcomb Riley and a few companions, he said that before he succeeded in committing and rehearsing Riley poem, "Goodby Jim," he must have shed a quart of tears.

"I guess I could go you a quart or two better before I finished writing it," replied Riley.

There can be no such feeling in anything that is not true—true to life and pure in spirit.

"Before now I have had to copy my copy, being ashamed to send it to the printer looking as though it had been out in a shower without an umbrella," said Burdette, as he mopped his eyes after reading a stray verse that had tears in it.

In the true comedy of life there is no lack of smiles, nor dearth of tears, and on the distant cloud a rainbow as bright as ever was wrought by purest sunbeams through crystal raindrops.

* * * * *

He who by word or act, or pen or brush, moves your spirit must himself be moved by the spirit of his theme.

You may call this inspiration, if you will, but no poem nor sketch has ever been written without it, that has long outlived the writer, while those who have written that which was given them to write have written for all time.

Man, naturally, wants to learn the truth concerning that in which he feels an interest, even though it be only a trifle. He may make a passing note of that which he knows to be untrue, but it is soon forgotten, there being no substance in it worth preserving.

The author of a successful book—a true book—is usually urged to write others to sell on the strength of the first, but he is likely to lose more than he makes, for the poor ones stop the sale of the good one. No authors but those who have truth to tell and who tell it as they are moved by the spirit of helpfulness can hope to live long. There is so much of truth to learn, so much of good that is entertaining, so much of innocent fancying that is pleasing, that lying jests, coarse humor, or silly meanderings find few readers, fewer to repeat them, and fewer still to commend them to others.

It is, therefore, a serious matter to write for the public, or to address it from the platform, or to call its attention to a picture.

And yet their names are legion who rush into print expecting to become famous, and rich, and beloved by the people.

* * * * *

If you feel moved to speak, or have a concern to write, or to paint, or to work anywhere in the broad fields of art or literature, fail not to act, for that concern may be your command to do that for which you are best fitted, which is your mission in life.

The lives of those who have made names for themselves as writers, artists and teachers of the people, should greatly encourage those who feel themselves called to work in the same fields, for have not many, if not most of them come from humble homes and the more common walks of life? A college education may be a great aid, but it is not essential. An open gate may be a convenience or a forbidding wall, a hindrance, yet neither will make nor unmake the success of one who has the elements of success within himself.

Wait not for the opening of a gate, nor halt because a wall appears as a barrier before you, but carefully and conscientiously do that which the spirit of love and helpfulness bids you do and you will have done what you could. More than this can no man do.

Pray not to become a genius, nor regret that you were not branded with the fire of the gods. Genius may mean fame, and surely it means suffering.

The venerable painter Ziem tells in a Paris journal the circumstances of the composing of Chopin's "Marche Funebre." The gruesome story which follows will confirm the impression, gained from a variety of sources, that Chopin, whatever his genius, was no very comfortable companion. Ziem tells how Chopin was seated in his studio talking. In one corner was a piano, in another a man's skeleton—one of the studio properties—covered with a cloth.

Presently he rose from his seat without a word, walked over to the skeleton and removed the cloth. He then carried it to the piano, and, seating himself, took the hideous object upon his knees. A strange picture of life and death! Then drawing the white cloth round himself and the skeleton he laid the latter's fingers over his own and began to play. There was no hesitation in the slow, measured flow of sound which he and the skeleton conjured up. As the music swelled in a louder strain I closed my eyes, for there was something weird in that picture of man and skeleton seated at the piano, with the shadows of evening deepening around them, and the ever-swelling and ever-softening music filling the air with mystery. And I knew I was listening to a composition which would live for ever.

The music ceased and when I looked up the piano chair was empty and on the floor lay Chopin's unconscious form, and beside him, smashed all to pieces, was the skeleton I prized so much. The great composer had swooned, but his march was found.

Some Family History.

From the Waco (X. D.) Leader.

The editor and wife had another square meal Sunday on account of having received an invitation to dine at the hotel. Perk said he was afraid we wouldn't accept, but we did. For the benefit of our lady readers we will state that they had chicken and the stuff that goes with such a layout, and strawberry shortcake and lettuce. Our wife wore her blue and white and looked real dear. Mrs. Perkins had a new skirt and looked too sweet for anything. The editor wore his Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday suit and was sick all night.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

(By Private Wire to The Gazette.)

NEW YORK, May 21.—In the march of improvement in Greater New York it seems as if every part of the municipality is included. Not only is Manhattan talked receiving the attention of artists in various lines, and Brooklyn undergoing changes which make for beauty, but the many small islands owned by the city which dot the East river and the harbor generally are better fitted for human occupation than they were a decade ago. Take Blackwells island, for example. A dozen years ago it was a swamp; today it is a park, with carefully laid out grass plots, beds of flowers, trees and shrubbery, all brought to a pitch of excellence, which makes it one of the show places of the city. The improvement is cheerfully conceded by the officials to be the work of William Kiggins, who is a landscape gardner by profession, and who also is in charge of the working people on the island. Kiggins came to New York some 18 years ago, and has been in the employ of the city on Blackwells island almost ever since. The city home, as well as the penitentiary, is on Blackwells island, and persons who read of it in connection with the police courts do not understand what a charming place it has become. There are many unfortunates at Blackwells island who find it a pleasant home, both winter and summer, while many others, who go there to spend a few weeks in the hospital, come over to Manhattan with their health bettered than they hoped it to be when they departed for a place which is inclined upon generally by New Yorkers as one of more existence, if not of punishment. The chaplain at Blackwells island, the Rev. I. W. Beard, is a good and worthy man, a veritable Vicar of Wakefield, whose name is as well known in some districts of this big city as is that of Bishop Potter himself.

Pearl Necklace Dispute.

Genteel smugglers are much interested in the question "Is a pearl necklace wearing apparel?" in the eyes of the law. This may be answered when the courts have passed on the appeal of Mrs. Harrison Dulles of Philadelphia, whose $15,000 necklace was seized last June on the assumption that she was trying to evade paying duty. Mrs. Dulles wants her jewelry back and the court will have to decide under what classification a pearl necklace shall be entered.

Herbert Laid Out the Music.

Victor Herbert's new musical comedy, "Babes in Toyland," is in rehearsal at the Majestic theater. Glen MacDonough is said to have written a catchy libretto, and Pittsburgh's own musical director and composer has laid himself out on the music, it is said.

Suit Too Loud for the Horses.

Two horses attached to an express wagon dashed through the show window of a ready-made clothing store in Nassau street this morning. It is supposed they took fright at the pattern of a hand-me-down suit labeled as "the latest from London."

Boys Trouble Them.

West End avenue is one of the aristocratic thoroughfares of upper New York. Well-to-do people live there, and most of them aspire to social distinction in one way or another. Yet one indignant young lady in the avenue complained this evening in my hearing: "We suffer the tortures of Hades up here from children whose parents let them loose in the streets to annoy everybody living in the avenue. When we open our windows in the evenings to sing or play, the brats mock and shriek at us." I suggested one way to be relieved of this instrumental nuisance, but as it was only to "refrain from singing and playing with the windows open," my contribution was not well received. This complaint of the West End avenue belle is mentioned only to show that aristocratic localities, as well as the tenement slums in New York, are infested by that terror of modern life, the wild and untamed 10-year-old boy.

Sailor Hat to Be Favorite.

According to Broadway merchants, the Panama hat will not be "it" this summer. Panamas are on sale for those that like them, and possessors of the article from last summer have brought them out for another airing; but hat experts say that the straight and wide-brimmed sailor, of canvas, or garden straw, will be the favorite. The average American, who is at all fussy over his personal appearance, found the Panama a little too rakish, not to say shapeless, for his fastidious taste.

Are Only Airy, Fairy Dreams.

That irrepressible organization, well meaning, but of few words, The Municipal Art society, is at it again. I mean, it has submitted another report to the mayor. The society feels that Manhattan is not as handsome as we all should like it to be. So, breathlessly, the report suggests these improvements—all of which, it may be remarked, have been heard of many times and oft—to wit: Underground roadways for pedestrians, arcades, parks along the water front, a water gate, triumphal arch and monument at the battery, a public forum at Union square, a monument to Madison square and sundry other memorials and statues about the city. Mayor Low nodded comfortably over the report, stuck it in a pigeon hole as the municipal art gentleman went away to dream again.

Will Be Jolted Into Eternity.

Two murderers are to be jolted out of the world by some 2,000 volts of electricity at Sing Sing on Monday. It is only the occasional reports of southern execution up the river that keeps the sceptical New Yorker in mind of the fact that murderers are really executed once in a while in New York state—when they are poor and insignificant. The two men to be executed this time are a negro ex-convict, and a penniless and friendless Italian.

More New Theater Talk.

New theaters are talked of in New York perpetually. The latest suggestion to date is that a playhouse will be erected at Broadway and Sixty-first street. This is to be the new "theatrical belt," which has been developed only in the past year, and toward which every amusement speculator is casting his eyes. There is little doubt that in the course of two or three years there will be nearly a dozen theaters to a square that could be covered with a Barnum and Bailey "big show" circus tent.

Activity at the Pump.

Things are lively on Eighth avenue tonight. The "pump" is the center of activity, for it is there that "Big Bill" Devery, the czarde of the Ninth district holds his court, and he is in fine feather this evening. There are fireworks and flags, and beer and cigars, and sandwiches, and speeches, and cheers for "the chief" for several blocks. Devery is to be nominated for mayor. That is the slogan of the Ninth, and Devery smiles placidly as he hears it ringing forth. There is a parade and the music of the bands works hard to drown the shouts for W. S. Devery. Whether the excellent is formally nominated for mayor of New York or not there is no doubt that he could be mayor of the "Ninth" for the asking—or without asking, for that matter.

Political Drift.

Discussing the Cleveland candidacy the St. Louis Globe-Democrat (Rep.) thinks the ex-president entirely willing to take a fourth nomination, but not to make any searching for it. It says: "If the party is ready to acknowledge that it erred, and to put its penitence in the form of a fourth nomination, Cleveland will not stop the movement. His Princeton letter of May 6 settles that. Perhaps he would be content to name some other candidate and shape the platform. Yet one thing is certain. If Bryanism should capture the party again in 1904 Cleveland will give it the same support as in 1896 and 1900. He is not a man to submit to revision, but if the party wants to revise itself he is more than willing, and will be the candidate if called upon."

"Out in Washington state a senatorial boom is growing for Representative Francis W. Cushman, the man who promised a speech in the house which would have to be printed on asbestos paper with hand grenades for general distribution," says the Washington Post (Ind. Dem.). "The arguments advanced in behalf of Mr. Cushman are, among other things, that Washington state needs advertising more than aught else just now, and that Mr. Cushman is a great advertiser. He has been as much ever since he came to congress, where he has established his reputation as a picturesque orator—'the Abe Lincoln of the west,' Mr. Cushman is talked of for the seat which Senator A. G. Foster now holds, and which he must yield March 3, 1905, for it is understood generally conceded that Mr. Foster stands no show of a reelection. He is a business man, not an orator or an advertiser, and therefore does not exactly fill the want of a growing young state like Washington."

+ + + +

Looking to the coming state convention the Altoona Tribune (Rep.) says: "The Republican state convention which meets next Wednesday will show great wisdom if it nominates its ticket and adjourns without passing any resolutions. There is no particular occasion for the adoption of a platform and the Republican newspapers will not take kindly to any resolution indorsing the press muzzlers."

+ + + +

Says the Washington Star (Ind. Rep.): "Mr. Watterson belongs to the strenuous school of politicians. He does nothing by halves. But now is the time for him to do his very best. His name is national, but his immediate constituency is southern. He stands to that section, if not always unerringly, at all times entertainingly. The Cleveland men want the south to believe that he can carry the day, and will fill her pockets with patronage again. Should she sell? Mr. Watterson thinks not."

+ + + +

Cleveland times have not been forgotten. Thus the New York Press (Rep.) says: "The name of Cleveland is hardly one to conjure with among investors of moderate means whose values fall away or evaporated under Cleveland free trade; among manufacturers whose mills and shops shut down while the foreign invader raided our ruined markets; among the artizans whose empty dinner pails drove them to Cleveland soup houses; among depositors whose savings were swept away in the almost daily wreck of banks; among dwellers along the line of march of 'Coxey armies,' or among the farmers of the country whose crops went unsold while the whole commerce and industry of the country lay paralyzed."

Ex-Senator Harris of Kansas could probably have the nomination for governor of that state next year if he cared for the honor, but he is making no move to claim it. This has given rise to the report that he is to get one of the bethesian canal commissionerships. At present he is dividing his time between Washington and his native state of Virginia. He would like to have his Kansas farm again, but the man who bought it when Mr. Harris thought he did not, now asks an advance of $5,000 to the price.

+ + + +

Looking back to Mr. Bryan's discovery of Gov. Garvin of Rhode Island as a likely article of presidential timber in no danger of a nomination, the New York Commercial Advertiser (Rep.) continues: "Now Mr. Bryan has made a second discovery which is a twin to that of Garvin. He has gone through the entire list of Democratic governors—Cleveland, Parker, Glenn, Gorman, Hill—and after barring the whole of them has decided that Judge Walter Clark of North Carolina is the man who stands for the principles of true Democracy, and is the man we ought to run." Judge Clark is a ripsnorting free silverite and general Bryan favorable. As a candidate he would be a wonder. Why does Mr. Bryan find himself able to select only this peculiar type of candidate? Does he think a third candidacy, even if certain to result in a third failure, is not so objectionable as a fourth candidacy that is in opposition to the third term tradition? Of course, whatever his motives, they are high, unselfish and noble."

+ + + +

Of Mr. Norman E. Mack's platform his contemporary, the Buffalo Commercial (Rep.) says: "Mr. Mack's letter is a plausible plea for harmony bearing more Bryanite than Cleveland earmarks. It presents a tentative modus vivendi on which the Bryan wing of the party will doubtless consent to co-operate with the Cleveland Democrats in the next campaign. The financial paragraph might have been written by Mr. Bryan himself. It will make s

BILLS OF MUCH IMPORT COME UP

Councilmanic Committees Tonight Will Consider Measures That Mean Much.

WHAT THE B. & O. ASKS

Wants Part of Wharf and a Portion of Second Avenue—Purchasing Agent Desired for City. To Discuss Salary Revision.

The Baltimore & Ohio ordinances which have hung fire for nearly a year will come up before the joint committee of select and common councils on corporations at its meeting at 8 o'clock tonight. The purchasing agent and the salary revision ordinances will come up before the finance committee of select council at 8:30 o'clock.

One railroad ordinance provides for the re-location of Second avenue in the Twenty-third ward, where the railroad runs along the left of the street until it crosses at Hazelwood. The ordinance provides for the changing of places of the street and the railroad tracks.

This would mean the abolition of many grade crossings and would give considerably more room. There would be nothing between the river and the railroad tracks but the mills as far out as Hazelwood. Beyond that the property is owned by the railroad company.

The depot ordinance provides for the leasing to the Baltimore & Ohio railroad all the wharf between Grant and Smithfield streets, and Water street and the lower harbor line. This would give the railroad company considerably more space and it is its intention to build a new depot along the harbor line at the Smithfield street end. A freight station is to be erected on the Water street side at the Grant street end.

The purchasing agent ordinance relates to the establishment of a new department to buy all the city's supplies. Assistant City Controller E. S. Morrow has worked for 15 years to have this department created. He claims there would be a big saving to the city in having a purchasing agent look after that end of the city's expenditures instead of loading the work on the controller's office, which has enough to do.

The department of supplies was created by the councils of Philadelphia about six weeks ago, and Mayor John Weaver appointed what is termed a director of supplies. It is this director's duty to see that every article purchased by the city is paid for at prices agreed upon and all supplies are purchased through this department. The city officials of Philadelphia have found that the office was a needed one and that it is being operated successfully. In all probability a subcommittee will be appointed on the purchasing agent ordinance.

The committee on public works of select council failed to meet yesterday afternoon for want of a quorum.

NEW RULE MAY BADLY AFFECT LOCAL OFFICE

Postal Clerks Who Were Disappointed in Regard to Raises Are Likely to Quit.

There may be a number of vacancies and a resultant decrease in efficiency in the Pittsburgh postoffice after July 1 because of the cancelling at Washington of 3,046 scheduled promotions. This will affect about 200 intended promotions in this city.

Many of the local clerks have been deterred from taking positions in other lines of business only because they expected to benefit by being increased. Some of those who expected to get better wages and who will be disappointed are expected to look for something else for a livelihood. Postmaster Holliday yesterday said:

"Although the wages in the postoffice and the other government services have not been increased in the last few years as in other lines of business there was one good thing done, and that was to make the minimum $600 for clerks instead of $500, as formerly. I have no information from Washington as to the intentions of the department, but if I have to cut down the list of those who were notified they would be raised I can only go over the list and eliminate those I think the least deserving."

The number and classes of the promotions authorized at the Pittsburgh postoffice, to go into effect on July 1, were: Eight in the $600 grade; 63 in the $700 grade; 14 in the $800 grade; 24 in the $900 grade; 15 in the $1,000 grade; 16 in the $1,100 grade; 12 in the $1,200 grade; 12 in the $1,300 grade; 3 in the $1,400 grade; 1 in the $2,000 grade; 2 in the $1,700 grade; 3 in the $200 grade and 1 in the $300 grade. The $700 and $800 grades will be the most seriously affected.

EXPRESSMEN ORGANIZE.

Local Branch of the National Body Was Formed Last Night.

There were 150 men present, and all voted to form a local union and signed an application for a charter. The local will be numbered 20.

Smallpox Patient Escapes.

James Huckinson, who is suffering from the smallpox, escaped from the county home at Woodville, yesterday. His home is in Southern avenue and as he was headed for Pittsburgh, the South Side officers were on the lookout for the man last night.

EMPLOYES PAY LAST TRIBUTE TO THE DEAD

Wrapped in the slumber of death and enshrouded in the habiliments of the grave, all that was mortal of Benjamin Franklin Jones lay in a beautiful casket in the reception room of his old home in Irwin avenue, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon, while scores of those who for years were his workmen in the great mills he founded filed past and for the last time gazed on the still features of their friend. At the request of the workmen of the Jones & Laughlins mills the doors of the Jones residence were thrown open at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon that the men might pay tribute to the memory of the one they had known and served so long.

For more than an hour before the doors were opened the street cars carried crowds of men who sat or stood about the West park quietly waiting until they would be given the opportunity to pay a loving tribute to their old employer. Although the crowd was composed of men of all ages, it was noticeable that the old men, men of years and gray hairs, predominated. It demonstrated the fact that those who knew Mr. Jones best, loved him the most.

About the bier were palms and other greens forming a background for colored roses, orchids, ascension lilies and carnations. Near the foot of the casket stood a large mass of immortelles in the form of a broken pillar. About the pillar clustered some narcissus, a few American beauty roses and a wreath of smilax. Written in violets in the white body of the immortelles were the words: "Our Friend." On a card at the foot of the pillar was a card inscribed, "From the Employes of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company."

In accordance with the wishes of the venerable head of the great steel company, the active pall-bearers will be men who have worked in the South Side mills more than a quarter of a century. The funeral services will be held at the Jones residence this morning at 10:30 o'clock. The Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will conduct the services. The active pall-bearers will be M. J. Dowling, George Geyer, William Albright, Hugh McCully, Robert Kennedy, T. S. Kirk, Joseph Daschbach, Wendall Van Hook, John Semple, Jr., and Edward Gray. The honorary pall-bearers have been selected from Mr. Jones' business and social associates. They are Albert Childs, Sol Schoyer, Jr., H. S. A. Stewart, Jacob Painter, Jr., Judge W. G. Hawkins, M. W. Watson, Maj. G. M. Laughlin, ex-Associate Justice George Shiras, Harry Darlington, A. R. Whitney, and W. C. Moreland. The interment will be in Allegheny cemetery.

TOO MUCH MARRIED.

Charles Ward's Child-Bride Precipitates Trouble for Him.

Charles Ward, a roller in Carnegie's Twenty-ninth street mill, was held for court in $2,000 bail yesterday afternoon, by Alderman McMasters, on charges of bigamy and perjury, made by John G. Brunn of No. 4714 Laurel avenue.

According to the testimony Ward was married to Brunn's daughter, Katherine, in January, 1898, but separated from her shortly after.

On November 8, 1902, Ward secured a license and was married to Margaret Smith, 18 years old, of No. 308 North avenue, Allegheny. The latter marriage was with the consent of the girl's parents, who accompanied her to the court house to secure the license. In the examination before the marriage license clerk, Ward swore that he had never been married before.

DISCHARGED THE MEN.

Closed Plant Down Because Bricklayers Formed a Union.

The strike of the men employed by the Harbison-Walker Refractories Company was increased in intensity yesterday when the company discharged all the men employed at the Hays station works. National Organizer Thomas H. Flynn of the American Federation of Labor, went to Hays station Wednesday and organized a local of brickmakers.

After the men had been at work for some time yesterday an official of the company closed down the plant. Flynn said the company discharged the men because they joined the union. He contends that the plant would have been closed down in a few days on account of the inability of getting clay, owing to the clay miners being out.

$200,000 Worth of the Riot Paper to Be Taken Up.

During the summer a new electric light plant will be installed by the county. The present dynamos were placed in service in 1887 and they are no longer capable of supplying the light needed at the county building.

Charged With Robbing a Car.

John Robinson of McKeesport was arrested yesterday, charged with having driven up to a freight car in McKeesport, breaking the fastening on the door and loading a wagon with sacks of oats consigned to D. H. Rutledge, a commission merchant. According to Detective Lamp, Robinson drove to Christy Park and sold the goods to a feed merchant. Robinson is about 35 years old and is well known in the Tube City.

A FLESH FORMING FOOD.

When you buy a package of Mi-o-na, the great flesh-forming food and dyspepsia cure, weigh yourself and see how much you gain in the first week's use.

Druggists Schilling Bros. Co., Penn and Frankstown avenues, will tell you of many of their customers who a month or so ago were thin, haggard and dyspeptic, but who are now, through the use of Mi-o-na, plump, strong and happy, with perfect health and good digestion. They have seen so many instances of the wonderful power of Mi-o-na to restore the sick to health and to make good, natural flesh, that they give their personal guarantee with every package of Mi-o-na they sell to refund the money if the remedy does not prove satisfactory.

Mi-o-na is a purely vegetable preparation that can be used with absolute confidence by the most delicate. It gives remarkable results with children, who are weak, run down and without appetite. It builds up the thin, pale, puny girl and woman to perfect plumpness and health. It is the only flesh-forming food of its kind and in addition it strengthens the digestive organs, aids the food to digest and makes complete and permanent cures of the worst cases of dyspepsia.

ASCENSION DAY WAS GENERALLY OBSERVED

Services Held in Roman Catholic and Protestant Episcopal Churches.

Ascension day was observed with special services in the Roman Catholic churches throughout Allegheny county and at most of the Protestant Episcopal churches yesterday. Masses were offered at the Church of the Epiphany in Washington street yesterday morning the same as on Sundays. At the 9 o'clock mass a large class of boys and girls received their first communion. The Rev. Father Lawrence A. O'Connell celebrated high mass at 10:45 o'clock and the Rev. Father H. Boyle preached the sermon. At the high mass in St. Rosalina's Catholic church, Greenfield, the Rt. Rev. Coadjutor Bishop Canevin preached the sermon.

At the Church of the Ascension, in Ellsworth avenue, Bellefield, the congregation celebrated the 14th anniversary of the organization of the church. Services were held at 11 o'clock and the Rt. Rev. Alexander Mackey-Smith coadjutor bishop of the Pennsylvania diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church, delivered the sermon. The services were attended by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Cortland Whitehead and many of the clergy of this city.

At Trinity Episcopal church, in Sixth avenue, special communion and preaching services were conducted by the rector, the Rev. Dr. A. W. Arundel. At Bishop Whitehead's church, St. Mary's, in McKee place, festival services and a parish social were held last night.

Exercises were held in the First Methodist church, McKeesport, under the auspices of the McKeesport branch of Pittsburgh Commandery No. 1 Knights Templar, at which a number of Knights from Pittsburgh Commandery and Tancred commandery No. 48 attended.

The members took part in an imposing parade in the principal streets of McKeesport before the services commenced. The Pittsburgh and Allegheny members were escorted by about 200 members of the McKeesport lodge, from the Baltimore & Ohio depot to the church.

The services in charge of the Rev. J. W. Miles, D. D., pastor of the church, and the sermon was delivered by the Rev. T. N. Boyle, D. D., presiding elder of the Pittsburgh district, a member of Pittsburgh commandery. Special music was rendered.

FOUR EXPIRED; THREE OVERCOME

High Temperature Caused Death and Suffering in Pittsburgh Yesterday,

THE MAXIMUM WAS 86

Rain, the First Since May 2, Is Promised for This Section by the Weather Bureau Today.

Four deaths and three prostrations were caused in Pittsburgh yesterday by the torrid heat from which residents in this section have suffered for several days. During the afternoon the temperature ran up fast, and several persons dropped over on the streets, being unable to longer withstand the hot atmosphere.

The Dead:

MATTHEW RILEY, 65 years old; lived at Penn avenue and Twenty-eighth street, died at the West Penn hospital last night. He was overcove while walking in Penn avenue during the afternoon.

JAMIE KOEHLER, 42 years old, of No. 311 Carson street, South Side; became overheated while at work during the afternoon. She was removed to her home, where she died last night.

MARY BRUCE, 80 years old; died at her home, 1910 Murtland avenue, East End, last night. She was overcome by heat during the afternoon and became unconscious, in which condition she died.

JOHANNA WALKER, 1 year old; died from the effects of the heat yesterday afternoon at her home, No. 9, St. Thomas street.

The Prostrated:

MARGARET TRACY, 53 years old; was overcome in Frankstown avenue during the afternoon and sent to the East End hospital. She has no hope.

E. M. BOYD, 40 years old, of Elizabeth; fell from the heat at Fifth avenue and Wood street during the afternoon. He was taken to Central police station, where he was revived by Dr. B. A. Booth and later was able to go home.

MINNIE MCNAMARA, of No. 457 Beelen street; fell at Penn avenue and Seventh street from the heat. She was revived at Central station and later was able to go home.

Relief from the intense heat is promised today by the weather man. The prediction is for showers today and showers and cooler conditions tomorrow. The maximum temperature yesterday was 86 degrees and it occurred at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Last year on May 21 the highest temperature was 81 degrees. At 8 o'clock last night there was little relief from the high temperature, the mercury being almost stationary at that hour at the 80 degree mark.

The excess in temperature for yesterday was 11 degrees. Since May 1 the excess in temperature is 85 degrees, and since January 1 it is 454. No rain of any importance has fallen in Pittsburgh, according to the local weather office records, since May 2, when .17 of an inch fell. The deficiency in precipitation locally since May 1 is 2.04 inches.

Washington, D. C., Philadelphia and Norfolk, Va., were the hottest places in the United States yesterday, having had a maximum temperature of 88 degrees. Salt Lake City, Utah, had a maximum of only 42 degrees. It was the coolest place in the country.

BOY'S NECK BROKEN.

Horses Frightened and Wagon Ran Over Him—Two Deaths from Heart Disease.

Fred W. Rock, 13 years old, was instantly killed on California avenue, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon. The boy was in one of the wagons of Renshaw, Carson & Co., the Allegheny grocers, driven by William Booth. The latter had taken some goods into the house of Judge Elliott Rodgers, leaving the boy with the wagon. The horses took fright and ran down the avenue. They collided with a pole, the boy was thrown out and the wagon ran over him. He was picked up and taken to Judge Rodgers' house, but he was dead, his neck and one arm being broken. The boy was a son of Frederick Rock of No. 606 Tower street, Allegheny.

Heart disease caused the death of Mrs. Margaret Fitzgerald, 65 years old, and that of Matthew Reilley, 60 years old, yesterday morning. Mrs. Fitzgerald was found dead at her home in West Carson street, and Reilley at his home in Stockholm street.

A man supposed to be Peter Low of Forty-fourth street, was instantly killed at the Twenty-eighth street crossing of the Allegheny Valley railroad on Penn avenue about 8 o'clock last night, by being struck by a west bound passenger train.

HANGING HASTENED END

Harry F. Snyder Was Not Suspended Long, but It Hurried His Inevitable Death.

Harry F. Snyder died at St. Francis hospital at 11:15 last night, in a measure, as the result of an attempt at self-destruction. Snyder was an insane patient, suffering from acute dementia. He was admitted on May 4 and steadily grew worse until no hopes of recovery were entertained.

On Wednesday evening while eating his supper Snyder got possession of the napkin. He made a noose of this and fastening the end to a transom hanged himself. He was discovered before he had hung two minutes and cut down at once. Everything possible was done for him, but he was so weak from the effects of his disease that he could not rally. The physicians at the hospital said that even if he had not hanged himself he would have died in the course of a few days.

Snyder was 20 years of age and unmarried. He was a clerk and lived at McKeesport with his mother. His father is dead.

The session was presided over by the chairman, Mrs. A. C. Gels. Mrs. E. K. Bricker acted as secretary. Mrs. J. C. Gruber, the treasurer, reported that in the past year, $600 had been sent to foreign missions and $400 to home missions. Miss Charlotte Voight read a paper on "Our Work in China."

Boston Brokers Suspended.

BOSTON, May 21.—F. M. Tucker & Co., bankers and brokers of this city, have announced their suspension. Slow collateral in cotton transactions is said to be the cause. They hold seats in the Boston stock exchange and have connection with the New York stock and cotton exchange and the Chicago board of trade.

POLICE MAGISTRATES MUST WAIT LONGER

Omission in Allegheny Ordinance Causes Delay—Traction Franchises Granted.

Allegheny common council last night discovered an omission in the ordinance passed by the select branch on Wednesday defining the police districts and fixing the salaries of police magistrates. The Third ward was not mentioned in the ordinance and it was amended and ordered reprinted. The ordinance creating a day and a night sergeant at No. 3 patrol station and fixing the salary at $90 per month, passed finally.

Opposition was manifested when the ordinances extending the time on the franchises held by the Pittsburgh Railways Company from August, 1905, to August, 1906, were presented. Messrs. Bennie, Bernhard, Boyd, Henderson, Mahoney, Ross and Sarver fought against the passage, saying the company should either build its lines at once or forfeit its franchises. They were all passed finally by a vote of 31 to 6.

The resolution for the appointment of a committee of five to inquire into the cause of the neglect of the city controller to make quarterly reports to councils of corporations to the city was passed, and Messrs. Bennie, Keane and Mahoney were appointed as members from the common branch.

A communication from Capt. W. L. Seibert, United States engineer, was read and ordered filed. It stated that hearings on the proposed raising of bridges over the Allegheny river will be held as follows: Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad Company's bridge, June 3; Sixteenth street, June 6; Thirtieth street, June 9; Pittsburgh Junction railroad bridge, June 11; Forty-third street, June 13.

Upon the call of wards the following papers were introduced and referred: Ordinances for the widening of Division street, purchase of ground for a free bath house, grading, paving and curbing of Carlisle street and part of Buena Vista street, appropriating $1,000 for the improvement of summer playgrounds for public school-children, lateral sewer on Iowa street.

NO HARMONY IN FINE NEW MORGUE BUILDING

Two Coroner's Deputies Have Resigned and Others May Follow.

Although stationed in their new building at the head of Diamond street, the employes of the morgue are not working in harmony. Coroner Jesse M. McGeary is having his own troubles, and they are not few. Deputy Coroner George Mercer tendered his resignation yesterday and Deputy Coroner George Bender will leave Monday. It is said the dissatisfaction among the deputies was because of the assignments of the turns, some of the men alleging they were given more night work than the others.

Among the stenographers there is also some trouble, it being alleged by some of the other stenographers that extra fees are made when a morgue victim is insured by taking a copy of the inquest proceedings for the insurance companies, and that Miss Julia McGeary, sister of the coroner, gets the most of those fees.

CUNNINGHAM LOST THE FIGHT

His Opponents in Beaver Win the Republican Primaries.

SENATOR WHITE BEATEN

He Was Defeated as a Candidate for State Delegate—County Chairman H. P. Brown Lost for Committeeman.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BEAVER, PA., May 21.—The Cunningham faction was defeated in the Republican primaries in this county today. The returns from 46 districts show that over 6,000 votes were cast in that number of precincts.

The contest was for control of the organization and nomination of a prothonotary and jury commissioner and the election of three state delegates. The anti-Cunningham forces, composed largely of Senator Quay's friends, swept the boards.

Wilber Harris, for prothonotary, defeated Frank D. Hart. Harris' majority will be about 1,000. Both men live in New Brighton. Charles Shuster of Beaver Falls was named for jury commissioner. The Cunningham forces carried some back country districts, but lost heavily in the towns along the Beaver and Ohio rivers.

The state delegates elected are Edward Freshy, New Brighton; Abram McDonald, Freedom, and T. S. Cook, Beaver Falls. Senator S. P. White, on the Cunningham slate for delegate to the state convention, was defeated.

The convention will be held in Beaver tomorrow to count the returns, organize the new committee and elect a chairman. Hartford P. Brown of Rochester, the present chairman, was defeated for county committeeman yesterday.

REV. D. S. LITTELL RESIGNS.

Presbytery Lays the Subject on the Table and No Action Is Taken.

An adjourned meeting of the Monongahela presbytery of the United Presbyterian church was held at the Third church, Diamond and Ross streets yesterday afternoon, to give seven second-year students of the Allegheny Theological seminary an opportunity to preach before the presbytery.

The Rev. D. S. Littell took advantage of the chance to present his resignation as pastor of the Second church, Pittsburgh. The resignation is to take effect as soon as the congregation places an organ in the new church at North Negley and Stanton avenues. The resignation was laid on the table and no action taken.

POETS ARE GUESTS OF VICTOR HERBERT

BALTIMORE, May 21.—The humorists, poets and paragraphers from various states spent the day in visiting various points of interest in the city. "The American Press Humorists' March," by Henry E. Warner of this city was played at Music hall by Herbert's orchestra and was received with great enthusiasm by the audience of 2,000.

Affections Were Alienated.

NEW CASTLE, PA., May 21.—Papers have been filed in a suit brought by John A. Haller, president of the Lawrence County Lumber Company against Dr. Edwin S. Cooper, from whom he demands $10,000 for the alienation of his wife's affections. The defendant, who is one of the most prominent of the younger physicians of the county, was also one of the defendants with Dr. J. R. Hahn and Mrs. Delia Tablizer in the famous Mabel Williams case. Dr. Cooper denies the charges and says that the suit is a scheme to extort money, as the only relations he ever had with Mrs. Haller were simply professional, those of physician and patient.

Here are some reasons why every Ambridge lot is a prize—Why the future of Ambridge as a city of the first-class is assured.

Four of the Pittsburgh plants of the American Bridge Company are to be removed to Ambridge by the first of next year. The Bridge Company is building at that point the largest finished product plant in the world. Nearly 1,000 skilled men are already employed at the plant; 5,000 will be on the permanent payroll by January 1 of next year. Most of these will come from the plants of Pittsburgh and vicinity.

Total contracts for improvements let during the past spring, and most of them now well along toward completion, aggregate $174,593.50—an average of $180 per lot, and an average of $6.91 for every foot front in the plan. These improvements include the grading of almost six miles of streets; paving of two miles of of streets; also curbs and firebrick sidewalks; laying six miles of sewers, six miles of water and six miles of gas mains. The sewers, water and gas mains reach every lot in the plan.

The splendid plateau owned for two generations by the Economite Society has been looked on for a decade as the finest available tract of residence real estate for miles around Pittsburgh. Now the first slice of these famous old lands, the choicest in the tract, is on the market—is selling fast.

The finest train service out of Pittsburgh is that furnished by the Pennsylvania to the towns "down the Ft. Wayne." There are 33 trains west and 31 east each day. The valley is free from smoke—there is not a furnace below Allegheny—and the Ambridge site lies high above the flood stage of the Ohio river. The fact that the United States Steel Corporation selected it for the greatest finished product plant in the world is sufficient guarantee of the character of the site on which the new city is to rise.

Terms easy—10 per cent down, 3 per cent monthly; no taxes nor interest till delivery of deed; or 15 per cent discount for one-third cash in 30 days, balance in three semi-annual installments, secured by purchase money mortgage. Further discount if building is erected by first of year. But it takes a book to tell about Ambridge. Ask us for one when you call for free excursion ticket today.

REAL ESTATE TRUST COMPANY OF PITTSBURGH,
311 Fourth Avenue.

Here is what the Great Pittsburgh Dailies said of Ambridge When the American Bridge Company's Project Was First Announced:

The town itself, on a high plateau to the north of the tracks will be a beauty. . . . The land company has made an appropriation of $175,000 for the street improvements, the sewering and the water mains. The works will have abundant pumping power for the water plant. . . . Contracts for these improvements have been let.—Pittsburgh Gazette, Feb. 21.

One of the chief attractive features is to be the large number of high class engineers and draughtsmen who will be located in the new town. The main engineering headquarters will be apart from the works itself. . . A great 5½ story building, 252x214 feet, occupying a larger area than the Frick building itself, will house from 600 to 800 college bred men, the pick of the mechanical engineering corps of the bridge company.—Pittsburgh Dispatch, Feb. 21.

The Company will set the pace for the Middle West in the matter of model town building. Inspiration towards this end will be given by the company reserving a 25-acres tract, 400 feet wide and almost a mile long, for a beautiful landscape park on the gently sloping hillside between the railroad and the town site on the tableland above.—Pittsburgh Post, Feb. 21.

The Real Estate Trust Company has been given charge of the town that is to grow up about the new plant on the north side of the railroad tracks, 25 feet above the railroad level, 130 acres in extent, lying to the north of a park 140 feet deep and a mile in length. In the midst of the park will be the railroad station and the big building in which the mechanical engineers will do the high-class work for all the plants of the company.—Pittsburgh Times, Feb. 21.

TO SUBURBANITES: Trains will stop at suburban stations along the Ft. Wayne as indicated on the schedule given above. Residents of Woods Run, Avalon, Emsworth, Glenfield, Sewickley and Edgeworth boarding the trains at those points will be furnished tickets by our agents on the trains.

DELEGATES WILL STAND BY SLATE

Philadelphia Republicans Are Chosen for State Convention.

COUNTY TICKET NAMED

Quay Is Guest of Ex-Senator Cameron—Durham Ready to Embark for Europe—Deal on for Leasing Traction Lines.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Public Ledger Building, PHILADELPHIA, PA., May 21.

Eighty-six delegates to the Republican state convention were today elected in the 28 legislative districts. Of the number seven are state senators, John C. Grady being the only Philadelphia senator not included, and 15 were members of the last house. Mr. Salus, whose name was hyphenated with Grady's in the title of a certain libel bill, was elected a delegate.

Commissioner Durham, who sails tomorrow for a four months' rest in southern France, is authority for the statement that the Quaker City delegation will, as a unit, support the "slate" agreed upon some time ago. It can also be said that the delegation will oppose any unfriendly criticism of the new libel law.

Conventions were held today to nominate candidates for the county ticket to be elected in November and the "slate" as made up weeks ago by the leaders, was accepted without a protest. The much-discussed question of fees was not mentioned in any way in the conventions which made the nominations for city treasurer and register of wills. The ticket is as follows: Judge of the No. 4 common pleas court, William Wilkins Carr; district attorney, John C. Bell; register of wills, Joseph H. Klemmer; city treasurer, Henry R. Shoch.

QUAY COMING TO BEAVER.

Senator Quay left this morning for Mountville farm in Lancaster county and tonight he is the guest of ex-Senator J. Donald Cameron at Donegal. When he left Col. Quay said he would probably go to Beaver tomorrow and remain there until Sunday when he expects to return to Harrisburg.

BUSY DAY FOR DURHAM.

This was a very busy day for Commissioner Durham. His departure tomorrow prompted hundreds to call at his offices today for the purpose of saying an revoir. His offices in the Betz building were crowded until late this evening. A large number of prominent politicians and business men will go to New York in the morning for the purpose of seeing him off.

MAY LEASE TROLLEY LINES.

The United Gas Improvement Company is engaged upon the most extensive deal in which it has ever participated. It is the leasing of the American Light & Traction Company of New York, a concern with $40,000,000 capital.

Negotiations have reached a point where auditors representing the gas company are examining the books of the other concern, and it will be upon the result of this examination that the terms of the lease will be negotiated. The question of terms has only been discussed informally, but it is understood that the controlling interests of the Light & Traction Company are willing to lease their property for an annual rental of six per cent upon the entire capital.

The Light & Traction Comapny, which was incorporated at Trenton, on April 6, 1901, is a corporation similar to the United Gas Improvement Company, its object being to acquire control of other gas, electric light and power plants and street railways.

The company has already acquired controlling interests in the following: Western Gas Company, Milwaukee; St. Paul Gas Light Company, St. Paul, Minn.; Grand Rapids Gas Light Company, Grand Rapids, Mich.; St. Joseph Gas Company, St. Joseph, Mo.; Madison Gas & Electric Company, Madison, Wis.; Binghamton Gas Works Company, Binghamton, N. Y.; Southern Light & Traction Company, San Antonio, Tex.; Consolidated Gas Company of New Jersey, Long Branch.

CLAIMED TO BE A PREACHER.

A fine-looking man, who claimed to be a clergyman, was arraigned before Magistrate Kochersperger, in the Central station today and held under $1,000 bail, charged with obtaining goods by false pretence. He gave the name of Theodore Haydn of Dryden, N. Y., and about to be given a charge in this city.

A detective at the time testified to having recovered the goods in the prisoner's lodgings. The secretary of the diocese of Pennsylvania testified that the Rev. Theodore Haydn of Dryden, N. Y., had not been assigned to this diocese.

The real Rev. Theodore Haydn appeared at today's hearing and testified that he knew the defendant as O. P. Smith, who had been in Dryden frequently. The prisoner refused to make any defense. CHESTER D POTTER.

BRITISH MUST SETTLE TRANSVAAL CLAIMS

American Was Deprived of Landed Rights by Kruger and Demands Five Millions.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The state department has called to the attention of the British government the claims of the late Charles Brown, an American civil and mining engineer, for compensation for lands of which he was deprived by the Boer government before the South African war. The amount of the claim is $5,000,000.

The case is of particular interest, not only because of the amount of the claim but also by reason of the important principle involved. Brown located, as he claims, in conformity with Transvaal law, a large number of land entries, including mining properties. He was enabled to do this by adopting the methods of the "American sooners," to the astonishment of the slow-going Boers, with whom he was competing for the land.

His proceedings were within the letter of the law, according to a decision of the supreme court of the Transvaal. But President Kruger had little regard for the courts. He sent for the chief justice and demanded that he reverse the decision of the court in Brown's favor and on the refusal of that judicial officer to do so, Kruger promptly expelled him from office and vacated Brown's title.

Brown appealed to the state department when the war broke out. The claim then lay in abeyance. The British government to the extent that it has forwarded the case to the South African colonial authorities for a full report, it is believed, has taken up the case, with a view to having the local courts there pass on it.

Leprosy from Foreign Service.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(Special.)—That the United States army is threatened with many cases of leprosy as a result of foreign service in the Philippines and Cuba, is the opinion officially expressed by Capt. J. C. Gilmore, commanding the Fifth company of coast artillery, at Savannah, Ga.

STRAP-HANGERS WIN NEW FRIENDS

Employes of Traction Company See Benefits of the Crusade.

MORE WORK IN SIGHT

Plans for the Establishment of Branch Organization—Park Patrons Now Added to the Army of Street Car Sufferers.

The motormen and conductors of the Pittsburgh Railways Company appreciate as keenly as the passengers the effect of the crusade which the Strap-Hangers' league is making for better street car service. While the employes are not members of the organization and will not be expected to join, it is admitted that they will be among the beneficiaries of the improvements which the strap-hangers hope to effect.

More cars mean more work for other men and greater satisfaction to the present employes. More cars will mean that conductors will have smaller crowds to handle and motormen will be able to make their schedules with greater ease. More cars will mean less discharging of conductors for "missing fares"—a rule which the present system makes it almost impossible to obey. No matter how competent a conductor may be, he must have the eyes of an argus to catch all the nickels that are represented in the enormous crowds which pack the cars.

More cars mean better working hours for the crews. Schedules can be arranged so that men will not be obliged to work "swing runs" all day and a portion of the night, according to the system in vogue at this time. For these reasons the employes are in sympathy with the new organization's principles, although they will not be expected by the general public to give even tacit encouragement.

Next week the strap-hangers will be ready to meet the officers of the traction company. A meeting will be held and the plans suggested on Wednesday will be carried out. In the meantime plans for the extension of the league and the establishment of branch organizations in the various wards of the city and the outside boroughs.

Park visitors are now suffering the discomforts from overcrowding which made life miserable for so many thousands during the last winter and spring. Summer cars have tended to relieve the evening runs slightly, but the corresponding increase in traffic has eclipsed any benefit which may be accorded by the addition of a few extra cars with a larger seating capacity.

Two Boys Drowned.

DUBLIN, N. H., May 21.—Louis Ellis of Keene, 16 years old, and Richard France of St. Louis, Mo., 17 years old, were drowned in Monadnock lake last night while out rowing.

In Memoriam.

At a meeting of the employes, representing the allied interests of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, held at Pittsburgh, May 19, 1903, the following preambles and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, We learn with unmingled sorrow and regret of the death of our esteemed employer, Benjamin Franklin Jones, and

Whereas, His uprightness of character and fair and honorable treatment in all his business relations, as well as his courtesy and kindly interest in those who were associated with him, have endeared him to us all, and

Whereas, We recognize that much of the success of the great business enterprise with which we are all identified has largely been the result of his wise counsel and untiring efforts, and

Whereas, His public life and character has always been such as to commend itself most highly to all classes of people; Therefore, be it

Resolved, That we herewith place on record our high appreciation of his sterling qualities, and believe them to be worthy of emulation; And be it further

Resolved, That we extend to his sorrowing widow and family our sincere and heartfelt sympathy, and commend them to Almighty God as the source of all true consolation. Hoping that He may alleviate their grief in this, their great bereavement, and be it further

Resolved, That we also extend our sympathy and expression of unfeigned regret to the members of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the daily and trade papers, and that a copy of the same be presented to the family and to the company.

CROOKED BUT CLEVER MECHANIC ROBS 'PHONES

Takes the Instrument to Pieces With a Screw Driver and Carries Off Cash.

Thieves have been systematically robbing telephone booths in Allegheny for the past few weeks. Yesterday a thief walked into Henry F. Faett's confectionery at Ohio and West Diamond streets, took the telephone to pieces and pocketed all the money in the cash drawer.

The robbery was committed in the middle of the afternoon when a number of customers were in the store. A well-dressed man entered carrying a small valise. Going to the booth, he calmly proceeded with a screw driver to take the telephone to pieces. After he had been working for some time Mr. Faett entered the store, and knowing that a number of telephones in the neighborhood had been robbed recently, spoke to his wife about the man. Learning from her that the thief had said nothing prior to going to work, he began questioning him. The thief put his tools in his valise and jumping past Mr. Faett, dashed out the side door and ran down West Diamond street.

Last Saturday the telephone in the Burry building, just across the street from Faett's, was robbed in the same manner. Faett's booth has been robbed four times in the past two months. At least half a dozen telephones in the same block have been robbed within the past two weeks.

CARTRIDGE ON TRACK SHOT A GIRL ON HEAD

Bullet Pierced Ear, Glanced Off Skull and Imbedded Itself in Window Sash—Boys Placed Explosive in Dangerous Place.

A prank practiced by some boys in Smithfield street last night caused the injury and narrow escape from death of Edith Hathaway, 16 years old, of No. 106 Sycamore street, Mt. Washington. The boys had laid a 38-caliber cartridge on the street car tracks at Fourth avenue and Smithfield street. A United States Express Company wagon passed over the cartridge, exploding it.

The bullet flew through the air, pierced the ear, struck the skull behind the ear, glanced off and embedded itself in the window of a restaurant.

Miss Hathaway was rendered unconscious and was taken to the Homeopathic hospital by Detective Charles Aymer. After the wound was dressed she was able to go home.

The young girl was on her way to the theater with her sisters, Mary and Lucy, and was walking on the west side of Smithfield street. When they got near Fourth avenue there was a sharp report and the girl fell on the pavement. Her sisters thought she had tripped when they saw the blood running down her face they became frightened. Eugene Haggerty of No. 1703 Bedford avenue came up and said the girl had been shot.

Detective Aymer who was standing on the opposite corner, rushed to the girls' aid. He raised her to her feet and with Haggerty they carried her to the hospital where her wounds were dressed. They are slight and the girl will soon recover from the shock.

The empty shell was found afterward on the track. Haggerty said he saw the boys place the cartridge where it exploded. Thinking it was only a pistol cap he paid no attention to it until he saw the flash of the explosion and the girl fall. Haggerty is a fireman at No. 2 engine house in Second avenue.

Superintendent of Police John McTighe issued an order that hereafter anybody seen placing cartridges or torpedoes on car tracks shall be arrested.

KNOWLEDGE OF DATES NOT A GREAT HELP

Dr. N. C. Shaeffer, state superintendent of public instruction of Pennsylvania, lectured before the pedagogical section of the Academy of Science and Art, on "The Teaching of History," last night, in the lecture hall of Carnegie institute. Dr. Shaeffer said that "history should not be taught so that the student should have a wilderness of facts in his mind, only the important dates should be memorized. A knowledge of humanities is of more importance for success in life than a knowledge of science."

COAL PRESIDENTS WILL BE FORCED TO TESTIFY

Interstate Commerce Commission Takes Legal Steps to Make Magnates Produce Papers.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—A vigorous effort is to be made by the Interstate commerce commission to compel President Baer of the Reading Coal and Iron Company and the Reading railway, and officials of other anthracite coal-carrying roads to answer certain questions and to produce certain documents which they refused, at the recent hearing before the commission in New York, to answer and produce.

The particular documents, the originals of which are demanded by the commission, are alleged contracts among the coal-carrying roads limiting the production of coal.

The commission requested Attorney General Knox to direct Gen. Burnett, district attorney for the southern district of New York, to present the case to the United States circuit court and ask for an order to compel the officials of the coal-carrying roads to appear before the commission, answer the questions and produce the documents.

Gen. Burnett has prepared the petition to be presented to the circuit court. It was received by the interstate commerce commission today. It will be signed probably tomorrow and returned to District Attorney Burnett. The probabilities are that it will be presented formally to the circuit court next Monday.

COTTON FELL OFF.

Experienced a Loss of from 27 to 55 Points in the New York Market.

NEW YORK, May 21.—It was a badly "mixed" crowd that surrounded the local pit in the cotton market this morning. Liverpool cables were almost as accommodatingly weak as they had recently been strong and though just before the hour of opening they showed some irregularity, they were still from 10 to 12 points below expectation. In addition to this, the weather map again reflected favorable conditions and early estimates indicated that part receipts for the day would once more greatly exceed last year.

Under the setting the market developed a gradually declining tendency which gathered force toward the close and prices were forced down to a new low level for the day, closing easy at a net loss of from 27 to 55 points. July closing at 10.37 showed a loss of over $2.00 a bale as compared with last night's close. May closed at 11.40, August at 10.47 and September at 9.85. Total sales of futures were estimated at 1,000,000 bales.

LEAGUE GAMES TODAY.

Pittsburgh at Brooklyn.
Cincinnati at Boston.
Chicago at Philadelphia.
St. Louis at New York.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, May 21.—The Champions journeyed to Washington park, Brooklyn, this afternoon for the first time this season, after their strenuous series at the Polo grounds and indulged in a batting matinee, making everything in the batting line from a sacrifice to a home run, and easily defeating the "Unreliables," as Hanlon's outfit is called, winning by the score of 11 to 6, in a featureless fielding game.

The stick work of the visitors, while not resulting in so many runs, was terrific all through the contest, Leach leading in this respect, with two home runs to his credit, and each time sending in a man ahead of him. Wagner and Ritchey also touched up the Brooklyn pitcher for four hits apiece.

"Roaring Bill" Kennedy made his debut in a Pittsburgh uniform and was warmly welcomed by many old friends. He pitched a good game up to the eighth inning, when he was supplanted by Phillippe, after the locals had developed a batting rally, scoring four runs. This inning Schmidt, the "California wonder," who has been getting away with a good percentage of his games, was in the box for the Hanlonites, and he received a terrific commanding, Latimers scoring in every inning but the sixth.

Phelps, who was injured by a foul tip from Matthewson's bat at the Polo grounds last week, caught today's game and did some timely batting on the side.

The champions made a tally in every inning up to the fifth, when Wagner obtained a pass and Bransfield fanned. Leach followed Bransfield with a home run hit over third base, scoring Wagner. In the seventh Leach contributed his second home run to deep center, after Bransfield hit for a single.

After Kruger filed out and Beaumont singled in the eighth, Sebring scratched a hit. Strang failed to stop Wagner's grounder and Beaumont took second, while Wagner beat out a free pass to first and scored on Ritchey's single, the latter scoring on Ahren's missed third strike on Phelps.

Brooklyn scored two runs in the third on Jordan's double and was advanced on Jordan's out. Schmidt sent Hearne home with a single. Strang walked and Sheckard popped to Ritchey. Jobbs sent Schmidt home with a double.

No more scoring was done until the eighth inning. Doyle hit to Leach, but the throw was too much for Bransfield. Dahlen and Hearn both singled, Doyle and Jordan scoring. Jordan's single nullified Dahlen and Hearn reached third. Schmidt's bounder got away from Kruger and Hearn scored. Strang singled, filling the bases, but Phillippe replaced him. Strang walked and all the corners were filled. Sheckard forced Strang at second and Jordan scored. Schmidt also made the mistake of trying to score in the excitement, but was nailed. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

A few of the many hits made yesterday would have come in mighty handy in the New York games.

President Dreyfuss is trying to cancel an exhibition game at Williamsport on the 29th of this month, as Manager Clarke wants to give the players a day's rest before tackling the Reds two games on Decoration day.

President Pulliam is in Boston to watch the series between the Boston and Cincinnati teams and incidentally to keep an eye on Manager Kelley of the Reds, who has been giving the umpires a lot of trouble of late.

Manager Clarke took a much-needed rest yesterday and the team was shifted about. Kruger going to short and Wagner to left field. The change seemed to work all right, as the team took a remarkable batting streak.

Manager Clarke showed good judgment in relieving Kennedy in the eighth inning, when the Brooklyn batters began to show a familiarity with his curves and worked four runs over the plate. Deacon Phillippe was called to the rescue and he put a sudden stop to the batting rally.

Tommy Leach was making up for lost time yesterday and just to show that he has not forgotten how he smashed out two home runs. This equals the record of Sebring made in a game against the St. Louis club here on April 23. Leach's homers were more fruitful than Sebring's, as Tommy brought a runner home with him each time.

Schmidt, the California phenom who has been doing such remarkable work for the Brooklyn team, was bumped good and hard by the Pirates, who plucked out just 10 safe hits. Hans Wagner in four times at bat had four hits, three singles and a three-bagger. Ritchey had exactly the same record as Wagner, three singles and a three-bagger in four times at bat.

PITTINGER'S PITCHING.

Not a Red Leg Could Reach Third Base in Yesterday's Game.

BOSTON, May 21.—Pittinger had Cincinnati completely under his thumb today and not one of the visitors reached third during the game. Score:

BEAT AN OLD RIVAL.

Homestead Defeated Braddock Team in a Fast and Clever Game.

The Homestead Library Athletics yesterday defeated the C. A. C. of Braddock at the Steel Works park in one of the prettiest games of the season. The visitors put up a good game, and Bennett pitched well, but the visitors were weak in batting, so the home team was not in danger until the last inning, when the visitors found the delivery of Patterson, making two hits and two runs. Homestead got the lead by getting two men on bases in the first inning, after which Coursey batted a home run. The score:

FIRST TRIAL RACE WON BY NEW CUP DEFENDER

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, May 21.—By a combination of good luck and splendid sailing qualities the new cup yacht Reliance today inflicted such a defeat upon the former cup defender Columbia as she had never before suffered, leading her over the finish line of a 25 mile course off Glen Cove by 14 minutes and 43 seconds, official time.

Not all the glory of that victory was fairly earned by the new boat. If it had been, there would be no doubt that the Reliance would be the next cup defender. But, despite the Columbia's ill luck the Reliance convincingly showed herself to be the better boat. She had beaten the Columbia nearly 8 minutes in a broad reach of 11 miles in fluky zephyrs, beaten her 1 minute and 15 seconds running free for three miles in a steady 12 knot breeze, and beaten her 4 minutes and 15 seconds in an 11 mile thresh to windward close hauls in a 15 knot southwester. This timing is unofficial and shows the Reliance's actual sailing advantage at the start. When the Reliance crossed the finish line the Columbia was miles astern, hopeless beaten.

The first leg of today's race was not a fair test of the merits of the two boats, but it sufficed to develop surprising drifting qualities in the Reliance, supposed until today to be a beam reaching craft.

The Columbia missed the favoring zephyrs that had helped the reliance to beat her 8 minutes in a drift of three hours in the first 11 miles, and then had been somewhat work had been hampered by an accident to her jibtopsail. Only once in the whole race did she gain on the new boat. The race was an exasperating start and a drifting fight. The course was triangular 11 miles along the Long Island shore, 3 miles across the Sound and 11 miles to the finish line.

RIGODON WON THE BIG STAKES

River Pirate Was Favorite but Finished Last

ARTICULATE A LOSER

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, May 21.—Rigodon, running in the colors of James R. Keene, won the Pocantico stakes at Morris Park today. He was quoted at 4 to 1 in the betting. Duke of Kendal, 40 to 1, was second and Rosebud third. River pirate, the even money favorite, finished a bad last. Flocartine cut out the pace to the stretch, where Rigodon and Duke of Kendal closed, and in a furious drive Rigodon won by a head, with Duke of Kendal a neck in front of Rosebud. Rosebud was badly interfered with all the way through the stretch.

The Laurel, heavily played to win the third race, ran away about four miles and was withdrawn. This western horse Articulate, who recently galloped away from Old England, was beaten in the last race at 1 to 5. The summaries:

NEWS OF THE HOME AND THE SOCIETY WORLD

SOCIETY WOMEN'S CLUBS WOMEN'S CORNER

THE annual reception and donation day of the Protestant Home for Incurables in Butler street, Lawrenceville, was observed yesterday. The reception hours were from 2 o'clock until 6 and the visitors to the home were received by the officers and members of the board of managers. The reception rooms on the first floor were prettily decorated with spring flowers. Refreshments were served in the large dining room across the hall. The whole home was opened for the reception yesterday and the inmates received in their own rooms on the upper floor.

The donations received yesterday were more generous than usual. The need of the erection of a home for men which will cost about $75,000, made the plea for contributions this year more urgent than in some previous years and the cash receipts were larger than ever before, nearly $1,900 being realized. The larger part of this sum will be used for the new building fund, the remainder being devoted to the current expenses. The managers hope soon to be able to begin work on the new home for men. There are 12 men in the present frame building at the side of the home, that number being the utmost it can accommodate, and many are waiting for admission. There are 50 women in the main building, which is modern and commodious. The home, founded by Miss Jane Holmes, was incorporated December 31, 1858, and opened for the admission of patients in June, 1865.

The officers are Miss Malinda Pressly, president; Mrs. Norman M. Smith, Mrs. George K. Stevenson and Mrs. John H. McKelvy, vice presidents; Miss Eleanor J. Stevenson, treasurer, and Mrs. Mary C. Long, secretary. The board of managers include the officers and Mrs. Robert D. Hock, Miss Bessie Stephenson, Mrs. John H. Ricketson, Jr., Miss Christine Arbuckle, Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, Miss Mary Aiken, Mrs. Maria D. Book, Mrs. Mary R. Carr, Miss Katherine McC. Creighton, Miss Margaret E. McCandless, Mrs. James H. McCutcheon, Mrs. A. Clark Drave, Mrs. J. J. Donnell, Miss Martha A. Howard, Mrs. W. W. Kerr, Mrs. Wenman A. Lewis, Miss Mary W. Pusey, Miss Anna D. Robinson, Miss Eleanor Sawyer, Mrs. G. M. T. Taylor, Miss Alice W. Tindle, Mrs. John Woodwell, Miss Ivs W. Wallace, Mrs. H. D. W. English.

Silver Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Kaskel Solomon of Beech avenue, Allegheny, celebrated their silver wedding by giving a handsomely appointed reception and dinner last evening at the Hotel Schenley. There were nearly 80 of the relatives and intimate friends in attendance.

The reception was held in the library of a private suite, where palms and a massing of smaller foliage appeared in the way of floral decoration. Mr. and Mrs. Solomon received alone, the latter being beautifully gowned in gray crepe de chine trimmed with exquisite lace. The banquet was held in the ball room, where the decorations were in green and white. The stage was almost completely screened by tall palms, which also transformed the corners of the room into graceful curves. The immediate family connection was seated at a central table with covers for 18, which was surrounded by smaller tables for the other guests. All were decorated with white roses and ferns.

Mrs. Solomon was Miss Rebecca Guskey of New York city, where her marriage to Mr. Solomon was solemnized 25 years ago. Soon after they came to Pittsburgh where Mr. Solomon became well-known in business. They have four children, Miss Gertrude Solomon, Miss Edith Solomon, Miss Madelaine Solomon and Mark K. Solomon. The eldest, Miss Gertrude Solomon, made her debut last winter in the Concordia club.

Among the out-of-town guests at the celebration last evening were Mr. and Mrs. L. Haas, Morris Golland and Judge Mayer of New York, and Dr. L. Schiverin of Chattanooga, surgeon in the United States navy.

During the banquet a handsome silver loving cup was presented to Mr. Solomon by his close business associates. The inscription upon the cup included the names of Emanuel Lewis, S. D. Mamaux, Joseph Harris, Ben S. Jacobs, Sigmund Stamm, Leon Rauh and J. S. Bichert. Joseph Stadtfeld was toastmaster and among the speakers who responded were Dr. J. Funds for the Children's Hospital.

Bread is the staff of life—yes, with good bread and butter and a cup of coffee the poorest meal may not be counted an utter failure. In most households there is too much meat consumed to make a perfect ratio with the amount of vegetables. With the coming of spring the diet should be materially changed. All green vegetables and the early fruits should figure prominently on the table. Lettuce and watercress are particularly good. The sub-acid of the strawberry is not only refreshing, but very beneficial. Rhubarb should be eaten as often as one tires for it, and if the flavor of the rhubarb alone is displeasing, try cooking it with some slices of lemon. Tomatoes are not expensive, and radishes have been on the market for some time. Spring onions, although intensely disagreeable when the odor is on the breath, are a tonic, but should not be indulged in unless one intends to stay in. Greens of all sorts are good for one, but they are not always served in a way which will make them beneficial. Spinach in particular is too often downright nauseating when it should be appetizing and agreeable. The more one eats of these green things, the less medicine does one need. Nature furnishes us with better tonics than man can devise. It were well if we would use them.

Tonic Medicine in Food.

SALLIE CARROLL.

"What'd you have for lunch?" asked the downtown business man.

"Meat croquettes, mashed potatoes, cup of cocoa and pumpkin pie."

"Humph! I'd be bankrupt in a week if I lunched so extravagantly as that."

"Cost me just 24 cents," said the man.

"What! Where do you lunch, may I ask?"

He named a downtown cafe for men.

"But that's only for men," sighed the girl. "The poor business woman isn't given a chance to lunch so bountifully at small cost. I have to go to tea-rooms and things and pay that much for biscuits and tea, or soup and bread. If I want meat and potatoes and cocoa and dessert I can count on spending 40 or 50 cents. I wish somebody would appreciate the fact that there are a lot of business women down here who want just such a place as you men have, at the same prices. Chicago and New York have both made provision for the business woman's lunch hour. Maybe Pittsburgh will catch up some day."

Fashion has furnished us with quite fascinating short skirts, such sprucelooking, well-hanging things that nothing but the misfortune of "great understandings," as some one called them, would prevent one adopting them. If we can economize on short skirts it shall assuredly spend the balance at the bootmaker's and with the purveyor of pretty stockings. With the short skirt one has the choice of a high boot or shoes and the stockings chosen each for the other. It is with the longer frock that the frivolities of shoes and stockings have their place. Gray suede shoes with precisely matching gray silk stockings or beige color are not to be despised. Dark blue suede shoes and stockings look rather nice, and that very deep pansy purple that is nearly all the way black. Black silk stockings, finely embroidered with jet, look really very nice with jet-embroidered house shoes of dull black silk, not of black satin, which, however, cannot be bettered for a plain shoe.

From Paquin comes the most peculiar creation. It is of maize Liberty silk over chiffon, over silk. It is elaborately inset with great Chantilly appliques, all set on by means of maize ruches. This shade of yellow is particularly seen on the bodice the lace suggests a bolero. Strangely enough, there is a fold of pink around the neck. The sash hangs straight in front. It is of pink satin Liberty tied in a queer, tight, twisted bow at the left breast. The parasol for this costume is of pink silk, with a tucked chiffon border five inches in depth. Four rows of narrow pink silk fringe adorn it most quaintly. The large hat is formed mostly of Frederic Anglaise, the famous wheel design, and the trimming is of pink and yellow roses. The skirt is very full and altogether "Paquinesque."

"You see mamma had never traveled in a sleeping car before," she was saying, "and she found it simply impossible to get to sleep. She debated about in her berth a good while, and presently looked out and saw a cozy little cot arrangement down in the corner. It was unoccupied. Mamma thought she could sleep down there, and as nobody seemed to have any claim on it, she slipped down from her own berth and was soon comfortably ensconced in the corner cot. She slept like a top, too. But fancy how she felt when next morning the colored porter told papa that he had found the lady sleeping so comfortably on his cot that he didn't like to disturb her, and so let her occupy it in peace!"

So much has been written on the "don'ts" and "musn'ts," two of the biggest bugbears of childhood, that it seems needless to refer to them here beyond reminding readers that it is one of the worst forms of nagging, and we all know that nagging is, at every stage of life, not only unendurable but demoralizing.

Training Children.

You cannot punish a child into being good. Submission may be gained, but at a dear price, for if the punishment have an element of justice in it (as it also frequently has) the memory of it oftimes rankles in a child's mind and may bear the bitter fruit of resentment for years to come. The parent who tries, in imagination, to put himself in the child's place will give no needless commands, and will never allow himself to punish a child or fix a penalty when he is under the influence of anger or impatience. Reverence of God's laws, love, sympathy and confidence between parents and children, are the watchfires which should be kept burning in every home.

Annual Session of Knights of Mystic Chain at Atlantic City.

EDITORS TO SOON MEET

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Young's Ocean Pier,
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 21.

The supreme castle of the Knights of the Mystic Chain, continued its annual session here today. The reports of committees occupied all of the time. The committee on appeals and grievances reported but one appeal during the whole year.

The afternoon session was devoted to the matters pertaining to the ladies' auxiliary degree of Naomi. All past grand commanders of that degree received the supreme degree at today's session and all past commanders had the crown degree conferred upon them.

The statistical reports place the membership of the order at 28,364. In the past year there were 5,295 propositions for membership in the order generally. The receipts were $408,238 and the expenditures for relief were $128,420 and for other purposes $90,413, making the total of expenditures $281,961. The property of the national order invested in real estate and bonds is $163,480. The value of subordinate castles is $264,796 80.

Reports from the degree of Naomi, the woman's branch of the order, indicate a membership of 8,456, with 1,632 propositions in the past year, 1,586 elections to membership and 1,437 new members. The receipts of this branch of the order were $57,588, disbursements for relief $11,868, and other expenditures of $26,875. This branch of the order has invested in real estate and other securities $7,904 92, while the valuation of the property of the several subordinate lodges is recorded at $21,781.

A committee of citizens was named by Mayor Stoy today to act in conjunction with the Sons of Veterans committee to arrange for the reception and entertainment of the national encampment of the Sons of Veterans which will meet in this city from the 14th to the 18th of September next. There will be over 400 delegates present at the meeting of Sons of Veterans, Daughters of Veterans and Ladies' Aid society, and in addition to the delegates several hundred members of the order will be here at the same time.

The Pennsylvania State Editorial association will hold its annual meeting in this city on June 22, which is also the opening day of the convention of the International League of Press clubs.

R. H. Thomas, secretary of the association, publisher of the Mechanicsburg Journal and the Farmer's Friend, was in town yesterday making arrangements for the entertainment of the editors and selected the Grand Atlantic hotel for their headquarters.

The membership of the association numbers 500 and nearly all the journalists will be here. Falling as it does on the same day as the press club convention there will be hundreds of newspaper men in town.

ALL ROADS LEAD TO WEST PITTSBURGH

West Pittsburgh is 5 miles east of New Castle; 2 miles east of New Castle Junction at the lines of the P. & W., the B., R. & P., the P. & L. E., the Penna. Lines and B. & O. Railroad. Its railroad and shipping facilities are equal to those of Pittsburgh and not surpassed by any in all Western Pennsylvania.

The street railway, soon to be in operation, will place West Pittsburgh within very close communication of New Castle and the surrounding towns, where within a radius of 5 miles there is work for 75,000 men.

LARGE LEVEL LOTS $150 UP

West Pittsburgh lots are of good size and practically level. No grading is necessary. The price range is due to location. Beginning at the business center of the town, Center Avenue and Seventh street, and radiating in all directions, the prices diminish. Center Avenue. Moravia avenue and Seventh street are the three most important thoroughfares, and between Center and Moravia avenues is more especially the business section. Values here are naturally proportionately higher than in what is known as the residence section, which lies east of Center avenue. No part of West Pittsburgh is given over exclusively to either residence or business, but from the nature of it this is the way it has been theoretically divided. There isn't an undesirable lot in the entire town, nor one that isn't worth today more money than we are asking for it. In a $200 lot you receive the same relative value as in the higher priced ones, and vice versa. It is only a question of how big an investment you want to make and how many lots you want represented in the investment. You can't possibly lose on any of them.

TERMS OF SALE

You can buy a lot in West Pittsburgh for 10 per cent cash and the balance at the rate of 2½ per cent a month.

In other words, a $200 lot would cost you $20 down and $5 a month for thirty-six months.

A discount of 15 per cent will be allowed for cash within 30 days.

Where an amount of one hundred dollars or more, over and above the amount of first payment due is tendered in cash within 30 days, 10 per cent discount on such excess amount paid will be allowed.

The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying the whole of the principal sum at the time of making any of the monthly payments, and for such anticipated payments a discount at the rate of six per cent per annum will be allowed.

Titles to all lots are guaranteed by Guarantee Title and Trust Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Eastern Stocks Opened Firm, Broke to a New Low Point, and Then Made a Strong Rally. Local Securities Irregular.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

For a short time after the opening of the eastern stock market yesterday there was a more cheerful tone, and prices averaged higher. This was based upon the reduction in the Bank of England's rate of discount from 4 per cent to 3½ per cent, and by a continuation of buying for foreign account. It is estimated that London bought not less than 100,000 shares American stocks during the day. The early rise was followed by fresh liquidation, and for about an hour it looked as if there was no bottom to prices. St. Paul broke to 152¾, Pennsylvania to 125½, and Canadian Pacific to 127¾, the latter being due to the extreme weakness in the Boston market in the Dominion Coal and Iron and Steel stocks, which again declined to the lowest price of the year. United States Steel common made a new record on this movement by selling down to 31⅝, and the preferred to 81¼, and the new 5s, after opening at 85, declined to 84¾. From that time to the end of the session the market seemed to be governed largely by the fluctuations in cotton and grain. Cotton broke at the opening about 20 points, and further concessions were made during the day, the weakness being partly due to reports of rain in the cotton belt and partly, perhaps, to a withdrawal of banking accommodation from the manipulators of the market. The grain market eased off and closed lower on reports of better weather conditions at home and abroad. The recovery in the stock market made steady progress throughout the remainder of the session, and final transactions were at the highest prices of the day. Pennsylvania recovered to 127½, St. Paul to 154⅞, Canadian Pacific to 130, United States Steel common to 33⅛ and the preferred to 82¾. The recovery in the remainder of the list averaged a point. The transactions were smaller than for the day before, footing up 763,000 shares. A little more gold was engaged for shipment to South America, and it was reported that $200,000 had been taken for Canada, but there were no additional engagements for Europe, the reduction in the English bank rate and the shifting of exchange at Paris, rendering additional shipments unprofitable. The only bearish news of the day related to labor troubles, it being reported that 2,000 trainment at St. Louis had gone out on strike, and that there was a possibility of similar action being taken at Chicago. Wall street welcomed the rally, which was long overdue, but it cannot be said that there was any real or decided change in the temper of the street.

Some interesting facts are contained in a private letter received by a Pittsburgher yesterday from the cashier of a prominent national bank located in southwestern Kansas, a portion of which we are privileged to reproduce, as follows: "I am very much obliged to you for sending me a copy of The Pittsburgh Gazette containing the article on 'Local Financial Conditions.' It certainly does look as though a halt should be called on the enormous capitalization of concerns all over the country, but particularly in the east. It has not extended west much, and I hope it will not. I was surprised to learn that Pittsburgh banks were paying interest on open or individual checking accounts. Such a practice by banks in this country would be severely criticized. The banks here do not pay interest on anything except six months' time certificates of deposit, and than the rate is not in excess of 4 per cent. In our bank we have very few such certificates bearing over 3 per cent and all our money is loaned at from 8 to 10 per cent. The proportion of our deposits to capital and surplus is much larger than your Pittsburgh banks. The ratio of our bank is nearly 7 to 1, and our competitors have 5 and 6 to 1. I don't see how your banks, paying interest on deposits, can earn dividends to justify the high prices quoted for their stocks.

"We see evidence every day that eastern banks are straining every nerve to make earnings. You would be surprised at the offerings of paper here from the east which should be handled by the home banks. We are offered long lists by St. Louis, New York and Chicago money brokers every day of paper of some of the leading concerns in the country at from 5 to 5½ per cent. The other day I noticed that one of these lists offered the notes of the Pittsburgh ——— ———. At the present time we have use for all our loanable funds at home; but some six months ago we had a considerable surplus and placed $25,000 in New York at 8 per cent. I was in Wichita one day last week and the president of one of the banks there told me they had $100,000 loaned in New York now at about the same rate the money would command at home. All this I think is decidedly significant. It looks to me as though everything were being run at a high pressure that cannot be maintained.

"Crop conditions in Kansas are not so flattering as they were a month ago. Damage to wheat by Hessian fly and unfavorable weather conditions may cut the crop one-half in this section. Corn is also backward; too cool and wet."

The local stock market was decidedly weak in the early dealings, being influenced by the tone in the east. The principal activity and the greatest weakness was in the steel stocks, which sold down to the lowest level reached on this movement. Crucible Steel common declined to 16, but in the late dealings recovered to 16¾, closing unchanged for the day. The preferred declined to 81¾, and closed at that price. United States Steel common broke to 32¾ and recovered to 33 at the close. The preferred stock did not sell below 82 here, but closed at a net loss for the day of ⅝ per cent. River Coal common declined to 19, the low point of the year, but recovered to 10¼, and was in good demand at that price at the close. The preferred remained unchanged at 39⅞ bid. Pittsburgh Coal common sold at the uniform price of 29 and the preferred at 87¾, and both were dull. There was a decided falling off in the dealings in Westinghouse Electric, the stock declining to 98¾, but recovering to 99¼ at the close. The first preferred sold at 90¼. National Fire Proofing was moderately active at 24½@24¾, the close showing a net gain of ⅜. The preferred remained unchanged at 36. Ohio Fuel Supply was a fraction lower, selling at 42¼, while Philadelphia Company recovered to 42½. Pittsburgh Oil and Gas declined to 85, and was offered at that price at the close.

In the banking list, Colonial Trust was the most active feature, and on sales of 150 shares advanced to 640, a net gain of 10 points. American Trust opened lower at 545, and at the close was offered at 540, a loss of 10 points. The strongest stock, however, was First National bank, which opened at 630 and on light transactions sold up to 675. Safe Deposit was also strong and higher, advancing to 189 and closing at 168. Changes in the remainder of the list were not important.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

At one time during the day yesterday Crucible Steel preferred was selling at 81⅞, while United States Steel preferred was selling at 81½, the first time these stocks have changed positions in the market. The subsequent recovery, however, carried United States Steel over Crucible at the close. But a year ago United States Steel preferred was quoted at 92 and Crucible preferred at 87. Wall street had a report yesterday that the weakness in the steel stocks was due to selling for account of Pittsburgh holders, and messages were received here inquiring the cause. So far as could be learned, Pittsburgh was a buyer of United States Steel preferred on the decline yesterday.

The sudden rise of $40 a share in First National Bank stock was unexplained by any new developments in the affairs of the institution.

The fluctuations in American and Colonial Trust stocks furnish a topic for guessing in the street. Yesterday American declined, while Colonial advanced, but there was no announcement in connection with the terms of the deal for the merger.

The bulls attributed the 4-point drop in Pittsburgh Oil and Gas, which was offered at 85 at the close, to the general weakness in the market. Ohio Fuel Supply declined to 42¼, and Manufacturers Light and Heat was nominally at 41@41½. Union Natural Gas was quoted at 90@bid.

It is stated that the business of the Westinghouse Electric Company for April was 100 per cent larger than for the corresponding month last year.

An eighth gain or loss on Marsden always attracts attention. Yesterday the stock advanced to and closed at 3¼ bid. The recent buying of the stock is credited to local interests close to insiders.

The Hazelwood Savings and Trust, which recently declared its initial dividend of 3 per cent, closed its second year's business on April 30 last. A statement of its condition as of that date shows undivided profits of $21,601 and total deposits of $287,435. Total deposits to-day approximate $325,000. Its total resources foot up $403,327. Considering that its capital is only $125,000, the company's showing indicates very energetic management.

Wall street had a report that on Wednesday night a block of 10,000 shares of St. Paul had changed hands at private sale at 156, Standard Oil interests being the buyers.

United States Steel new 5s opened yesterday at 85, declined to 84⅝, and recovered to 85.

During the first half of the session yesterday New York stock exchange sales were at the rate of more than 1,000,000 shares a day. In the afternoon, when the recovery set in, the dealings fell off.

A Philadelphia banker was quoted as saying that Pennsylvania Railroad stock would be supported around 120, the subscription price for the new stock, and that the market would not go below that level.

A small lot of Second National of Pittsburgh sold yesterday at 825, unchanged from the last previous sale.

North American Savings declined from 155 to 153 on light transactions.

One of the best signs noticeable was the buying of stocks for European account, which is about the first time within a year that this has been the case, and the reduction of the Bank of England rate will perhaps stop further exportation of gold.

A failure was announced in Boston yesterday of a house doing a custom business, but no doubt their affairs were known to people interested the last few days, as it had no effect upon the securities market.

National Lead preferred has declared the usual quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent, payable June 15.

The Philadelphia stock exchange has ruled that contracts in Pennsylvania railroad warrants, delivered upon issued, shall become due and be settled on May 30.

The directors of the Railway Steel Spring Company have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock. The dividend is payable June 20.

Philadelphia Electric directors have declared the regular dividend of 2½ per cent, payable June 15.

The fear that Texas oil would seriously affect the river coal trade seems to have been unfounded. A dispatch from Austin, Tex., says: "The state has decided to abandon the use of oil as a fuel. The purchasing agent has figured it out and has estimated that the oil is now costing the state about $1.30 per barrel, at which price coal is much cheaper. There is also an additional drawback to the oil that the supply is so limited, apparently, that not more than three cars can be had at one time, and this supply is not sufficient for the needs of the various institutions."

In view of the recent litigation in Pittsburgh over the same general subject, the following from the Wall Street Journal will be of interest: In the case of White against Milnor, Bodman & Co. just decided by the board of governors of the New York stock exchange, the general public will find matters of importance to all who deal in stocks. The case is one growing out of the corner in Northern Pacific stock, which culminated May 9, 1901, and is of great interest in that it is the first one decided without recourse to the courts. Milnor, Bodman & Co., a Chicago commission company, on May 9 were short 200 shares of Northern Pacific stock for a customer named White. He had the stock margined to 200. Early in the morning of May 9 the customer gave an order to Milnor, Bodman & Co. to purchase 200 shares of Northern Pacific for cash, or, if not for cash, to purchase any way. The company telegraphed the order to its New York office to buy for cash if possible, but the latter did not succeed in doing so for about an hour, although its representative was on the exchange ready to fill the order. Finally the New York house reported the order filled by the purchase of 100 shares at $1,000 and 100 at $800, making an average of $900 per share. White refused to be called on its customer for the difference. He declined to pay. In due course the case was submitted to the board of governors of the exchange, who, after hearing a great number of witnesses, decided that the order should have been executed at 226 and in the regular way, and that the stock should have been delivered

BAUER BROS. GET SITE FOR $80,000

Will Build Bakery in East End to Cost $150,000.

WYLIE SALE OF $40,000

Federal Street Corner In Allegheny Brings $4,250 a Front Foot—Big Jobs of House Building Are Being Figured.

Bauer Bros. & Co., wholesale bakers, have bought four properties in East Liberty for $80,000, as a site for a big bakery to cost at least $150,000. The purchase was effected by I. O. McMinn of the Liberty Real Estate and Trust Company. Three of the properties face in Penn avenue between Putnam street and Denniston avenue, and have a total frontage of 253 feet, which was figured in the deal at $200 a foot front. From John W. Garland they bought 101x200 feet, formerly owned by the Dollar Savings bank and occupied by an old Baptist church which has been used for years by the East End Cornice and Roofing Company. A double brick house on lot 92x200 feet was secured from A. C. McCallam, who was represented in the deal by Capt. G. W. McCallam. From Peter Wurst there was bought a lot 60x200 feet, improved with a brick house. In the rear of the McCallam lot, and facing in Aurelia street, another lot, 65x120 feet, was bought from E. C. Berger. This is known as the Longdon property and will be used for a large stable.

Bauer Bros. & Co. are now located on the north side of Penn avenue, between St. Clair and Euclid streets, where they have a large plant. Some time ago they bought 200x225 feet in Hamilton avenue, near Fifth avenue, intending to build a bakery there. Recently the Pennsylvania Railroad Company condemned this property, which is valued at $70,000, and this necessitated the deal just closed. The bakery to be erected on the four properties bought, will be one of the largest in the city and equipped with the latest appliances.

DOUBLED HIS MONEY.

Through the agency of L. A. Clark & Co. the former McGarvey property, on the east side of Tunnel street, has been sold for $40,000, or $1,000 a front foot. It was brought last February by James B. Corey for $20,000, and he in turn sold it to Theodore W. Nevin and Leonard A. Clark of the above firm. The property is situated only 37 feet from Fifth avenue and measures 40x80 feet. Two three-story brick buildings now stand on the lot and the buyers contemplate razing these April 1, when the leases expire, and erecting on the site a six-story business block to cost $50,000. This sale marks a new high record for Tunnel street property and shows how values in that locality have gone up recently, as the late owner doubled his money on a four months' investment.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, in the name of the Schuylkill Improvement Land Company, has bought from John P. Ober 13 acres in the Twenty-second ward, for $50,000. The property is part of a plot of 40 acres and adjoins the holdings of the McKelvey Grove Land Company. It lies a short distance east of Highland station and between the Monongahela river and Nine Mile run. The land will be used for more tracks.

BREAKS ALL RECORDS.

H. C. Mendel & Co. have the articles of agreement signed in an Allegheny deal that breaks all previous price records on the North Side. The property sold is the Schwarz holdings, at the southwest corner of Federal street and Parkway and the price paid was $85,000. As the lot has a frontage of only 20 feet in Federal street with a depth of 100 feet, the rate of sale is $4,250 a front foot, or $42.50 a square foot. A three-story brick building, now rented to a drug firm at $2,400 a year, occupies the lot. This property is directly across Parkway from Boggs & Buhl's establishment and is said to have been bought by a prominent North Side merchant. A few weeks ago when property on the opposite side of Federal street sold at over $2,000 a foot it was considered something remarkable. Now values have reached such a point, as shown by recent sales in Federal street, that even at the figure paid for this lot the property is considered a good investment, as it is one of the best corners in the street and practically controls a large frontage for building purposes.

TWO SALES IN NINETEENTH WARD.

Edward M. Brickel and John Basler have sold to Annie G. Updegraff 1400x140 feet at the northeast corner of Black and Rebecca streets, Nineteenth ward, for $57,500. Four brick houses stand on the lot, which was bought for an investment.

William T. Pierce of McKeesport has conveyed to Agnes J. Runnette two brick houses standing on 80x150 feet, on the north side of Black street, near Wayne alley, Nineteenth ward, for $23,850.

Through the office of S. H. Lloyd the property at the northeast corner of Danniston avenue and Aurelia street, Twentieth ward, has been sold for $10,000 to Mrs. Lavinia Davies, nee Lewis. Leonard Aronson and the present owners are J. H. Phillips and C. A. Douds. The lot is improved with three brick houses and measures 72x120 feet.

W. J. Ivner & Co. sold for James H. Hammett two properties on the east side of Atlantic avenue, near Harriett street, for $11,000. Mrs. Jennie Lewis was the buyer. The lots, 60x100 feet, in Copeland street, Twentieth ward, for $5,000.

Allegheny: W. L. Scott & Co. sold for P. J. Ritter to the Widows' Home association 40x100 feet in Arlington avenue, between Buena Vista and Monterey streets, Allegheny, for $5,000 cash. The association will improve the property with small houses for the widows of Allegheny.

Penn avenue: Andrew W. Mellon sold to William M. Shoen the property at the southeast corner of Penn avenue and Twenty-seventh street for $15,000.

Stevenson street: The Aronson Realty Company sold for Michael Sweeney to L. Aronson a five-room brick house, lot 21x92 feet, at No. 81 Stevenson street, for $2,000.

A building permit was issued yesterday in Allegheny to John Anderson for the erection of a two-story and attic frame dwelling on Osgood street, Tenth ward, to cost $2,000.

HOME GROWN BERRY SEASON WILL BE LATE

Oats Are Firm at Higher Quotations--Shelled Corn Lower. Beans Rule High.

Word received from strawberry growers in Ohio a few days ago was to the effect that, while the season would be late, owing to dry weather, indications favored a large crop. Usually these nearby berries are ready for market about the last of May, but shipments will hardly begin, at least in any quantity, until after June 1. Meanwhile the most of the supplies are coming from Maryland, and they cannot be called satisfactory, as the berries are small in size, and not perfect in quality. Cold weather early in the spring and drought later, hurt them. The best received this year have come from North Carolina, but they are nearly done.

Trade in fruits and produce for this week has been slow, largely on account of the meager offerings, vegetables all over the country being held back by lack of rain, and supplies are away below the average both in quantity and quality. Cabbage, beets and onions are being burned by the dry heat, and other growing produce is affected more or less in all lines except roots which are far down in the ground. Where they are protected, Florida tomatoes have been coming forward with some freedom during the past few days, however, and they are having good demand. Radishes are less desirable than they were, as prices are lower.

In groceries few changes were made yesterday. There is an easier feeling in cornmeal, which has caused a reduction in price. Flour is firm at the advance of Wednesday. Sugar is very strong at former quotations, while coffee is steady and unchanged. Navy beans continue to rule high and the advance figures of the earlier part of the week are easily maintained. Canned tomatoes are still weak and standards are now quoted down to 87½ cents, which was the price named as a concession last week. Dried and evaporated fruits are unchanged.

Hay remains firm, with offerings of best grades moderate. Oats are stronger in the west and the quotation here is higher, but with a firm tone pervading the market. Ear corn is unchanged, but shelled is easier and quotations have declined. Millfeed is steady, with receipts light.

Butter is easy at quotations, which have not changed in this market. Cheese is steady, limited offerings keeping the market from getting full. Eggs are weaker under the influence of hot weather, but losses are heavier, and dealers are holding them at former quotations. Storing throughout the country continues in spite of the high prices ruling, and it is said packers may keep on putting them away during most of the summer.

WHEAT, CORN AND OATS LOWER IN CHICAGO PIT

Provisions Also Declined at the Close of a Weak Market.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, May 21.—Weak cables and good rain reports started the decline in wheat and many timid longs sold out. A scarcity of adverse crop reports helped the downward tendency and a lot of wheat came out on stop orders. The market opened 1¼ to 2c lower, at 74¼@74½c, selling up during the first hour to 74¾@74½c. Some offerings became liberal, however, and there was a gradual descent, the market closing on rallying sweeps under the end of the session. The low point, 72¾c, was reached. Fair buying by the leading long prevented a further slump and the market steadied at the close, July showing a loss of 1@1¼c to 72¾c. Cash wheat was strong and receipts small. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 128 cars, which, with local receipts of 11 cars—some of contract grade—made a total 139 cars, against 147 last week and 223 a year ago.

Corn shared in the general weakness, a good deal of long property being marketed when the bearish feature of the heavy primary receipts developed. This weakened the market early and it held firm, but there was too much corn on the market. The close was about steady at the bottom. July closed at 47½@47¾c at 48½c, after ranging between 48¾c and 48c. Trade was on a fair scale, with considerable selling by elevator houses against accumulations. Cash demand was small, and country offerings were not excessive. Local receipts were 461 cars, with 10 of contract grade.

Oats showed the heaviest loss in the grain pits and it was due to heavy selling by long holders, with no support to the market. The early sentiment was bullish, but on reports of rains in Southern Illinois and in extremely favorable crop conditions the market closed weak, at 32¼@32¾c, after selling a shade lower, at a loss of 1@1¼c.

Provisions were weak. Free offerings were made early, and the market declined 12½c from the top figures throughout the list. A fitful feature prevailed late in the day on buying by brokers at the decline, but prices were all down on weakness in hogs and packers' selling. The close was almost at $12 70, a loss of 12½c; lard was off 7½@10c at $7 12½, and ribs was off 7½@10c at $7 25.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow—Wheat 200 cars, corn, 285 cars; oats, 140 cars; hogs, 21,000 head.

L. C. Sadd Leaves Service of the Burlington to the Great Surprise of Many Friends Here

L. C. Sadd has resigned from the service of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad to enter private business. The announcement is a surprise to his friends in Pittsburgh, who only a few months ago were congratulating him upon his promotion to the position of New England passenger agent for the Burlington. He had for several years been engaged as traveling passenger agent of the company with headquarters at Pittsburgh.

L. C. SADD,

Many P. R. R. Changes Coming.

The coming changes on the Pennsylvania railroad are being discussed with the greatest interest, the reports that they are to be wholesale having apparently good backing. The report of the selection of E. P. Bates, now with the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley division, as the new general freight agent is reiterated from New York. The retirement of W. H. Joyce on June 1 will result, it is said, in two steps of promotion for General Freight Agent Thayer. He is to become fifth vice-president. Assistant General Freight Agent Dixon is then to become freight traffic manager, according to the report, the general freight agency being offered to Mr. Bates. There is another report that William J. Rose of the Long Island is to succeed Mr. Thayer. F. Frank Hunter, assistant treasurer of the Pennsylvania, who has been ill for some time, is to retire under the pension system, according to the same source. H. T. Conner is his successor. It is said that the Berwind-White Coal Company is endeavoring to secure the service of W. H. Joyce.

Fine Water Facilities Planned.

Important plans for the increase of the water facilities for engines on the Pennsylvania railroad in crossing the Allegannies have been brought into shape. A private pipe line about 10 miles long will be built from between Wilmore and Portage and track tanks on each of the four tracks will be installed. The water main into Gallitzin will also be increased in size so as to double its capacity. The water for the new pipe line is to come from Ben's creek. The new track tanks will be 1,500 feet long and have a capacity of 15,000 gallons. One purpose of this improvement is to eliminate a number of the stops which freight trains are forced to make to secure water for the engines in coming over the mountains. With the track tanks in service and the supply of water bountiful, the movement of freight will be greatly expedited. It is said the entire improvement will cost $200,000.

Will Not Build Coke Cut-Off.

Without opposition apparently the long discussed plan for building a new railroad from near Traugar, Westmoreland county, to the Pennsylvania railroad near Beatty was yesterday officially disapproved. The stockholders of the Southwest Connecting railway met in the offices of the H. C. Frick Coke Company in the Carnegie building to take up the plan. The purpose of the proposed line was to shorten the distance from the haul of coke east, but the expense of the necessary construction was deemed so great that the economy in the haul would not justify the outlay.

E. T. Horn Resigns.

E. T. Horn, assistant to the general superintendent of the Pittsburgh system of the Baltimore & Ohio, has resigned and accepted a position with the Illinois Central. Mr. Horn came to the Baltimore & Ohio last fall when its yards were in bad shape. Considerable of his time here was spent in arranging the plans for the new yards at New Castle Junction and at Connellsville. His acceptance of the position with the Illinois Central is believed to be a direct result of the connection of I. G. Rawn with that system.

Railroad Notes.

M. A. Mann, agent for the Panhandle at Midway, was in the city yesterday.

O. H. Shepherd has been appointed general superintendent of the New York, New Haven & Hartford in charge of the company's rail lines and lighterage department. He assumed his new duties June 1.

It is again reported that John Francis, general passenger agent of the Burlington & Missouri River, is to be made general passenger agent of the Burlington system, with headquarters in Chicago.

The formal meeting of the old Pittsburgh, Youngstown & Ashtabula stockholders was held yesterday at Youngstown, O. All the retiring directors were re-elected. The road is one of the Pennsylvania lines.

Considerable interest attaches to a sight at Carnegie yesterday. The first engine bearing the name "Wabash" reached that town over the Panhandle. It is destined for service in the hauling of material for the construction of the new line.

General Manager Dickinson of the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient, says the road has about 300 miles built and 600 miles will be completed before the year ends. The right of way for the entire 1,620 miles has been secured and most of the grading is under contract.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The report that all of Stratton's Cripple Creek Mining & Developing Company's property is to be sold to an eastern syndicate is denied by J. Maurice Finn, attorney of the company.

The Tamarack is now shipping an aggregate of about 1,800 tons of ore a day, a little less than one-third of this coming from No. 6 shaft. The work from that portion of the mine is understood to continue practically the same as heretofore.

William H. Tibbals has secured an option on the Golden Eagle group of claims, located near Greenwood, B. C., for a consideration of $135,000. The property was obtained for English clients.

The Cripple Creek Gold Temple Company, which is operating on the Gold Sovereign, has an immense showing in its new vein, which has been opened at a depth of 600 feet. Nearly every piece of the quartz shows sylvanite and very good, and on picked samples assays have been secured running at the rate of $3,000 to the ton.

The Griffith Gulch Placer Gold Mining Company is the title of the latest entry into the Oregon field. Articles of incorporation have been filed with the county clerk. The incorporators are J. Wood, August F. Meyer, L. Kreen and Adda D. Bush, all of Baker City, which is the headquarters of the new company. Its capital stock is $1,000,000, and its properties are in Griffin Gulch, near the old placer camp of Auburn.

Large offerings for zinc ore induced a number of the largest producers of the Joplin district to withhold their ore from the market and this, with the lighter demand from some quarters, resulted in a curtailment of the week's shipments.

CROATIAN REVOLT SPREADS AND MAY INCLUDE DALMATIA

TROOPS ON THE SCENE

Outbreak Due to Poverty of Peasants and Hated Ruler Count Hedervary and Hungarian Rule.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

VIENNA, May 21.—The revolt in Croatia is spreading to every part of the titular kingdom and threatens to extend to Dalmatia.

The celebrations at Agram yesterday of the anniversary of the death of Jellachich von Buzim, the former ban of Croatia culminated in a fierce conflict with the police who attacked the crowds with sabers wounding many persons and making 350 arrests including several students and women. The city of Agram is now completely under military rule. The principal streets are closed by cordons of troops. Four regiments, fully equipped for war, have been ordered to proceed from Oedenburg to the Agram district.

At Buccari and Maja thousands of peasants attempted to destroy the railroad in order to prevent the arrival of troops. They tore up the rails at five different points and when the military arrived the peasants pelted them with stones, injuring several soldiers. The troops retaliated by shooting and bayoneting many of the peasants.

The disturbances in Croatia are primarily due to the long standing race hatred between the Slavs and the Magyars. The present outbreak has two main series, first, the general discontent of the peasantry arising from extreme poverty prevailing everywhere. Second, the indignation aroused by the alleged tyrannical rule of Count Khuen Hedervary, the present ban of Croatia.

The Croatians attributed much of their poverty to the financial methods of the Hungarian government, which is accused of drawing from Croatia money in excess of its legal proportion of the taxes in spite of the protests of the inhabitants. Consequently throughout Croatia there is increasing hatred of Hungarian rule and language. The recent attempts made to introduce the Magyar language in Croatia has especially aroused popular indignation.

The present agitation covers the entire country, from Esseg, in the east, to the districts on the Adriatic coast, its immediate cause varying according to the different localities. In the districts around Kreut the disturbances have a socialistic origin, the peasants attacking the Hungarians not on account of their nationality, but because they are wealthy. In the towns of the Agram district generally the language question is the principal cause of the troubles. In the coast districts the hatred of public officials caused the outbreak.

Count Khuen Hedervary who has been ban of Croatia for 20 years, was born in Croatia and educated at the university of Agram, but is intensely Hungarian. His repressive measures have created much bitterness among his fellow countrymen.

Catholics Look to Emperor.

LONDON, May 21.—An address to Emperor William is being widely signed here expressing the hope of the British Catholics that Germany may be entrusted with the protection of Catholic interests in the east, and assuring the emperor that the British Catholics will labor unremittingly to remove the misunderstandings between Great Britain and Germany, and for the promotion of the friendliness of the two countries.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 21.—Word was received this afternoon of the purchase by the Havana & Jaimanitis Railway Company of the Marian Sëam Railway Company, running from Havana to Marian Beach, Cuba. IS NOT IN HARMONY WITH CHAMBERLAIN

Rosebery Does Not Support the Scheme for an Imperial Commercial League.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, May 21.—Lord Rosebery expresses surprise that his speech on Burnley on May 19, in which he dealt with Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's tariff speech, delivered at Birmingham on May 15, has been interpreted as in any way supporting Mr. Chamberlain's proposal to establish reciprocity between Great Britain and her colonies. Lord Rosebery adheres absolutely to his opinion that the Liberal party is indissolubly bound to free trade and that anything like an imperial commercial league would weaken the empire internally and excite the permanent hostility of the whole world.

In a letter to a constituent Mr. Chamberlain further emphasizes his belief in the necessity for an imperial commercial league. He says:

I am firmly convinced that the prosperity of this country depends largely on our trade with the colonies which, under a wise system of mutual concession, will increase by leaps and bounds. We have been apt in the past to consider too much the advantage of buying cheaply and not to pay sufficient attention to methods whereby we may have the means that enable us to pay at all.

DISASTER AGAIN THREATENS A TOWN

The New York police communicated to Chief of Police Reynolds of Butte certain peculiarities in the dry battery of the machine. The local police found that it had been built by the Montana Electrical Company of Butte, and that a man answering the description of Rosseau, the suspect, purchased it at that store. A detective from New York is here working on the case.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE FALLS

MISS GFELLER'S STORY

Difference Between Mexican and American Money Leads to Charge of Fraud in Mining Deal—Decision in Rice Estate.

W. J. Colwell and W. R. Stuckel were yesterday acquitted of a charge of involuntary manslaughter, in criminal court, preferred as a result of the death of Felix Knuckles, found with his neck broken in the rear of a house on Finance street on September 27, 1901. The costs were placed on the county, no evidence having been produced to involve the defendants.

An indictment, charging E. Jay Morris with false pretences, was quashed on the motion of defendant's attorneys. He was charged by T. M. Harton with obtaining $2,496 from him on representation that Morris was the patentee of a "3 turn figure 8 toboggan slide."

Bud Weaver was convicted of burglary for entering the house of Hin Lee in Wilkinsburg, and recommended to the mercy of the court.

The jury trial to determine the right of Mrs. Annie M. Gfeller to participate in the estate of her step-father, J. C. Lappe, the Allegheny tanner, was continued in common pleas No. 2.

Mrs. H. A. Lappe, a daughter-in-law of the decedent testified that about the time of Lappe's death, Martin Lappe, a son, remarked that there was no will and that Mrs. Gfeller would not get a cent.

A 16-year-old daughter of Mrs. Gfeller who was a favorite of the decedent, told how she assisted him in counting his money. She told of the existence of a package of papers, in which the will was supposed to be, which papers disappeared after Lappe's death. She said Mr. Lappe carried the alleged will about with him for a considerable time.

The case of James S. Humbird and others against Edward J. Davis and Wilson E. Griffith is on trial. The action grows out of a Mexican mining deal in which by the difference of the value of Mexican and American dollars the defendants are alleged to have cleared $88,244 01. The plaintiffs claim fraud and of this amount ask to be awarded $50,796 81.

Judge W. G. Hawkins in orphans' court on a question of law in the application of the estate of Catherine Rice, deceased, the right of one claiming as a widow of a deceased tenant in common to be settled by the first judgment in partition decided that the award of inquest must await the adjudication by the court of the rights of all parties claiming to participate in the partition.

The will of James M. Bailey was filed. James Willis Dalzell, John B. Jackson and D. Leet Wilson are appointed trustees. The estate is to be divided into four equal parts. The income of one part is to be paid to Miss Anna D. Dalzell during her life, and at her death the estate is to be divided in three equal shares to go to the testator's three children, Ruth, Mark and Louis L. Bailey. Trust Officer C. S. Gray of the Fidelity Title and Trust Company was granted letters.

The will of John Martin, late of Braddock, was filed. The estate is worth $85,000, of which $80,000 is in real estate. The decedent's widow gets the personal estate and the use of the real estate for life. At her death the estate is to go in equal parts to Susanna Katherine Watkins, John Henry, William, George H., Adam and Charles Martin, Mary Emma Smith and Mary M. Hamilton. Attorney J. C. Calhoun represents the estate.

DR. METHENY WINS.

Jury Found Against Beverly Robinson in Sensational Case Involving Maternity of Child.

The verdict in the action in ejectment brought in the United States court by Beverly Robinson against Dr. D. G. Metheny for a part interest in No. 537 Wood street was for the defense. The case hinged on the parentage of a child. Robinson claimed it was given birth by his wife and the defense said Mrs. Metheny was the mother.

The interest of Robinson and Metheny in the property at issue came through the child and the verdict practically means that the jury regarded Mrs. Metheny as the mother.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

A decree in divorce was granted in the case of Martha A. Kennedy against W. J. Kennedy.

The will of James Edwards was filed for probate and letters testamentary were taken out by John Thomas Edwards and S. P. H. Edwards. Attorney J. A. Wakefield has charge of the estate.

Edward D. Fuller, a lumber dealer of Pittsburgh, has filed his petition in bankruptcy in the United States district court. His liabilities are given as $15,889 73, which is unsecured, and assets as $12,380 70.

Lee Sing, a Chinaman of New Brighton, entered suit against Addison M. Wilson in the United States court for $10,000 damages for the alleged breach of the terms of a lease on a building in New Brighton.

A decree was granted in the case of Angie Claypoole against Andrew G. Claypoole. Reports of commissioners were filed in the divorce cases of Maggie Taylor against John Taylor and Elizabeth Jones against Charles Jones.

In the United States circuit court the suit of the Hostetter Company against the St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance Company to recover payment of insurance alleged to be due for the loss by fire of 1,000 cases of bitters, is on trial.
